RODOLPH'S LYRICS TO GLORIA?

Film Beauty Denies His Ardent Poems Were Penned to Her

New York, Aug. 16.—Was Rodolph Valentino ever more than just a friend of Gloria Swanson, queen vamp of movieland? This question has puzzled the Rialto since the recent publication of a book of poems by none other than him who has been heralded as the screen's incomparable lover.

Here are the first two paragraphs of "Cremation," dedicated to "G. S."

CREMATION.
To G. S.

I.

Just a packet of letters tied with a bit of blue.
Just a packet of letters that once were sent to you—
To one who proved unworthy
Of the love inscribed within.
The tiny packet of letters, a witness of my sin.

II.

Just a packet of letters, but they are not mine own.
I dare not claim one thought in them,
Not even as a loan.
For to the one you thought I was
In all sincerity
You bared the secrets of your soul,
Now I send them back to thee.

Many will insist that the author is weeping at the shrine of the beautiful Gloria, but if so, according to Miss Swanson, Rudy neglected to mention that he was in love with her.

At the Lexington Hospital, where she underwent an operation a few days ago for an intestinal ailment, Miss Swanson said:

"Really, I hardly believe Mr. Valentino intended his beautiful but sad little poem for me. I've known him for a long while, but do not recall having written to him. If he had composed verses about horseback riding I would have to plead guilty, for he and I used to take to the bridle paths occasionally.

"Of course, this was long before Mr. Valentino became famous and, likewise, before he was married. I shall always be glad I numbered Mr. Valentino among my friends before he became famous. I cannot claim to be the 'G. S.' he refers to."

Meanwhile, Valentino is in Paris, where he is being lionized by the French beauties.

HALF MILLION LEFT TO QUINN HEIRS

Major Thomas L. Walsh, brother of United States Senator David I. Walsh, left for New York today and will sail for Liverpool on the Leviathan tomorrow in the interest of heirs of Thomas Quinn, who died in Australia leaving half a million.

Because, under the English law, all estates in Great Britain and its Dominions revert to the Crown unless claims are entered before a certain time, the several heirs of Quinn in this vicinity decided to take no chances.

They retained Major Walsh and he left at once to battle in the English courts for his clients. All the papers in the case are in London.

BERGDOLL KIDNAPER SPIRITED AWAY TO SECRET GERMAN JAIL

Eberbach, Germany, Aug. 16 (I.N.S.).—Carl Sperber, one of the men who attempted to kidnap Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, wealthy draft dodger, and who was removed from a detention hospital by Bergdoll, was reported today to have been taken to Bavaria. Bergdoll refused to reveal Sperber's whereabouts.

Sperber was wounded by Bergdoll at the time Carl Schmidt, another of the kidnapers, was killed by the German-American.

In the automobile with Bergdoll were three heavily armed men. The only explanation given by the authorities for the removal of Sperber and the other prisoners was that they were being placed "in safe custody in the interior." It is understood they feared an attempt at rescue.

GAMBLERS BREAK THE BANK; DEAUVILLE CASINO CLOSED

Deauville, France, Aug. 16 (I.N.S.).—The doors of the famous Deauville Casino, biggest gambling place in Europe, were closed today, for a heavy run of luck against the house has broken the bank.

After paying out 10,000,000 francs, the Greek-Armenian syndicate backing the game, closed the doors for the first time since the Casino was opened.

BELIEVE SAILORS FIRED LINER AS RESULT OF BOOTLEG FEUD

New York, Aug. 16.—A theory that disgruntled bootleggers among her crew had set a fire in the hold of the White Star liner Mongolia to get even with a faction which had "tipped off" their game to prohibition agents, was advanced today, after fireboats had extinguished a smoky blaze in her No. 3 hold, caused by spontaneous combustion.

Sailors on ships at nearby docks were the authors of the disgruntled bootlegger story. They declared a feud had existed for some time between "wets" and "drys" among the Mongolia's crew, and that this was brought to a head Tuesday, when the "drys" caused seizure of 300 bottles of liquor which the "wets" had brought over to smuggle into New York.

Officials of the line scouted the story.

HIGHLAND BREWERY BURNED; MYSTERY IN SPRINGFIELD

Springfield, Aug. 16.—The Highland Brewery, for many years a landmark here, was destroyed by fire of suspicious origin early today. The loss is estimated at $35,000.

William Blackmer, watchman, was found asleep on the second floor when the firemen broke in and was rescued. Twenty persons sleeping in nearby houses, were driven to the street in nightclothing when the blaze threatened to spread.

The brewery, owned by Edwin J. Murphy & Co., and controlled by the Springfield Brewing Company, ceased operations six months ago and was recently sold. Since prohibition near beer has been produced there.

TROOPERS SEARCH HOME OF CHILDERS' WIDOW

Belfast, Aug. 16 (AP).—The home in Wicklow of Robert Barton, one of the signers of the Anglo-Irish treaty, was raided by Free State troops, it was announced today by Mrs. Erskine Childers, widow of the Republican leader.

Mrs. Childers said she and her two sons and a woman companion were present in the house when th[illegible]ders entered by a window, producing a warrant from Major-General Hogan authorizing the search. No arrests were made. Mrs. Childers added that a search of her Dublin home lasting six hours was carried out.

POISON VICTIM GAVE WRONG ADDRESS

Mrs. Margaret Halperin, recovering at Boston City Hospital from drinking a bottle of iodine because she feared losing her waitress job did not live at No. 68 Waltham street according to Mrs. Catherine Shaw, who conducts a lodging house at that address.

"I keep a register of all my lodgers. I never heard of this woman," says Mrs. Shaw.

The address is one given by the woman when she entered the hospital.

NEW THREAT BY COAL MINERS

Will Strike if Wage Contract Is Not Agreed Upon by September 1

New York, Aug. 16.—John L. Lewis, president of the Miners' Union, told the United States Coal Commission today that, in offering to resume wage negotiations for a new contract which would fix wages and terms of employment in the anthracite regions, the union would not agree to let the mines operate after September 1 if a contract agreement had not been perfected by that date.

Both sides in the controversy went into conference today with the commission, equipped with a provisional agreement looking to a continuation of anthracite coal mining after September 1.

That there were still obstacles to be overcome, however, before an assurance of averting another interruption in anthracite production appeared very early in the course of the discussion.

Lewis notified the commission that the union was prepared to accept the operators' agreement made last night to abandon the "check-off" system entirely, whether for collection of items of indebtedness held against the miners by their employers, or for collection of union dues.

Samuel D. Warriner, chairman of the anthracite operators' policy committee, in notifying the commission of the operators' readiness to abandon completely the "check-off" system, took the position that the miners would agree to end the threat of suspending anthracite operation September 1.

This difference in the attitude of the two groups is presented fully to the coal commission. As on yesterday, the Federal agency met separately with the operators first and later with the union representatives. Both Mr. Warriner and President Lewis withheld any public statements concerning the negotiations.

Coolidge Determined to Settle Coal Question

Washington, Aug. 16.—President Coolidge was said by callers at the executive offices today to be greatly encouraged by the success attending the preliminary efforts of the Coal Commission to prevent an anthracite strike.

Senator Weller, of Maryland, said he found the chief executive more confident than ever that there would be no stoppage of anthracite production.

"The President appears determined that there shall be no strike called," the Senator said, "and failing to prevent that, he seems to be determined that a strike will be stopped."

RENEWAL OF BATTLE HALTED

Five Carloads of Klansmen Stopped and Disarmed by Sheriff's Posse

Steubenville, O., Aug. 16.—Ku Klux Klansmen today almost caused a renewal of riots here which late last night threw the city in an uproar and caused a gun battle in which four men were wounded, two of whom are dying.

Klansmen came from East Liverpool at daybreak in five automobiles. They were armed with rifles and shotguns.

Met on the main street by Sheriff Edward Lucas and deputies, they levelled guns and were about to fire when the sheriff flashed his badge and yelled, "I am the law."

The guns hung suspended a second then were lowered.

The Klansmen were then ordered to step out of their machines and surrender their arms. They complied. Eight were arrested. Having heard of the attack on members of their order, they had come to render assistance, they said.

KLANSMEN BEATEN.

The pistol fight which sent hundreds of citizens rushing to safety while bullets whined through the air followed a riot when 100 men said to be members of the Ku Klux Klan were attacked in downtown streets, badly beaten and forced to flee.

Several automobiles were wrecked, a dozen Klansmen injured and about forty members of the mob that attacked the Klansmen suffered blackened eyes and cuts and bruises.

Not long after Darwin L. Gibson, said to be a Klan officer, was fired upon as he drove through a darkened street. The shots came from a group of men huddled in an adjoining alley.

Gibson drew his own pistol and returned the fire. Citizens in nearby streets ducked for cover as the men continued to shoot at each other. Gibson emptied his gun.

Three men dropped to the street, one after another. As the last shot left Gibson's pistol he fell himself, with a bullet in his skull.

TWO UNDER ARREST.

Gibson is dying at a local hospital. Dying also is John De Santis shot by Gibson. He was shot through the left eye. The two other men were only slightly wounded. They were arrested by police reserves. They are Dosineck Spinetti and Frank Velta.

The riot previous to the shooting was brought about by Klansmen parking their automobiles in down-

CLASH FOLLOWS DE VALERA ARREST

By DANIEL O'CONNELL

Dublin, Aug. 16, (I.N.S.)—One Irish Republican was killed and two Free Staters wounded in a clash at Bantry today.

President Cosgrove today branded De Valera as a "war widow" who was afraid to personally take the risks his followers did.

The Free State government is taking precautions to prevent Republican reprisals for the arrest of Eamon De Valera in County Clare yesterday.

WOMAN SOUGHT IN ICEMAN'S MURDER

Marlboro, Aug. 16.—A woman was introduced into the murder of John B. Girourd, local iceman, shot to death by alleged "hi-jackers" early this week, for the first time today.

It was learned that the police are searching for an attractive, well-dressed woman about thirty-five years old, with the idea that she may have fired the fatal shot at Girourd's icehouse, where bootleggers had assembled to deliver liquor.

The woman inquired at the Colonial Filling Station the direction to the ice house on the night of the murder. Milton H. Marshall told the police she rode in a Packard touring car, and left immediately after receiving directions. Three men, one of them a Marlboro Italian, are also sought.

Hugo Baldi has been identified as having also inquired the road to the ice house on the night of the shooting.

CORCORAN STAYS IN JAIL; HIS BAIL PLEA IS REFUSED

An attempt on the part of Attorney Joseph P. Walsh to have William J. Corcoran, former district attorney of Middlesex County, admitted to bail, was unsuccessful today.

Walsh, who is counsel for the former Boston lawyer, brought back from New York on a default warrant, asked Judge George A. Flynn in the Superior Criminal Court to remove the default entered against Corcoran June 10, after he had failed to appear for arraignment on an indictment charging him and nine others with blackmail and conspiracy.

Attorney Walsh's argument was opposed by District Attorney Thomas C. O'Brien. Judge Flynn then declined to entertain Walsh's motion. Corcoran must remain in jail until his trial, expected to start after Labor Day.

ARREST LIEUT.-GOVERNOR OF N. C. IN BANK FRAUD PLOT

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 16.—Lieutenant-Governor W. B. Cooper, Thomas E. Cooper, his brother; Horace C. Cooper, his son, and Clyde L. Lassiter, business associate of the family, were arrested in Wilmington on United States warrants charging conspiracy to wreck the defunct commercial National Bank of Wilmington, and fraudulently using the funds of that institution.

All four were released when they gave bond.

MANCOVITZ GETS SEVEN YEARS IN STATE PRISON

Israel, alias Jacob Mancovitz, in Suffolk Superior Court today, pleaded guilty to five indictments charging him with breaking and entering and larceny. He was sentenced on one containing eleven counts, to from seven to ten years in State's prison.

The other four indictments, one of which related to Manovitz's recent activities in Roxbury, were placed on file by Judge George A. Flynn. The indictment on which he was sentenced covered a period from December 17, 1919 to February 11, 1920, and included breaks in Back Bay, Roxbury, Dorchester and Brighton.

CRANSTON, R. I., BARS ORDERED CLOSED

Providence, Aug. 16 (I.N.S.).—Following the receipt of a letter from Attorney-General Herbert L. Carpenter that liquor and gambling laws were being violated, Chief of Police James R. Cuff of Cranston today ordered closed all near-beer barrooms in the Silver Lake and Chestnut Hill sections of Cranston, adjoining Providence. The Silver Lake Hotel on Dyer avenue was visited by sheriffs from the Attorney-General's office a week ago and has not been opened since.

STAR SHAKEN BY MISS MINTER

"What Do You Know About This?" (the Taylor Murder) She Demanded

Los Angeles, Aug. 16.—Following the murder of William Desmond Taylor, famous moving picture director, which has never been solved, Mary Miles Minter hurried to the home of an internationally famous picture star, grasped her by the shoulders, shook her, looked into her eyes and said:

"What do you know about this?"

Miss Minter revealed this today, and in the picture colony at Hollywood it was almost as sensational as the sudden revelation that the little girl with the doll face, golden curls and baby stare is thirty years old.

For years the girl who is now fighting to cut the apron-string ties which have bound her to her mother throughout a career in which she earned almost $1,500,000 has been looked upon as a child.

SOUGHT "TRUE MATE"

Her love for Taylor was looked upon as the infatuation of an immature maid for a man old enough to be her father.

"But it was not so," said Miss Minter. "Mine was the love of a mature woman for her true mate."

Along comes Homer Riley, newspaper proofreader of Dallas, Texas, and announces he is Mary Miles Minter's father, and that Mary is thirty years old. Both announcements caused a sudden rise in the temperature of Mrs. Charlotte Shelby, Mary's mother, ill in the Minter home in New Hampshire street.

Mary's demand that "Ma" account for the $1,300,000 the little star earned in the pictures, didn't help the sickness in the first place.

That large sum was received by Miss Minter from her employers since she was eighteen years old, as she supposed, and the fact is a vital one in all considerations of the case.

ALWAYS A "BABY"

Giving it out to the world, always, that her daughter was "a mere child, therefore unable to fittingly handle her own funds," Mrs. Shelby, it is felt here, will soon find herself in an unenviable position if the statements of the asserted Texas father of the film star are proved to be facts.

Statements of the asserted father, while aiding Miss Minter, are received as derogatory to the reported ambition of Mrs. Charlotte Shelby, her mother, to keep her famous daughter in financial and social subjection to the end that the parent's interests might profit thereby.

That is especially so, in the view of followers of the case, in respect to Miss Minter's sensational assertion that her mother, herself, was in love with Taylor and forbade her daughter to have anything to do with the famous film director because she, herself, wanted him.

"Her action at Mr. Taylor's attentions to me were not inspired by a desire to protect me from an 'old man,' as she called him. Instead she sought to shove me into the background, so that she could try to monopolize his attentions, and if possible, his love," reasserted Miss Minter.

"Mother always gave me every reason to believe that my years were as few as seemingly possible to harmonize with what looks like a plot on her part to keep me in subjection as a juvenile," asserts Miss Minter.

"She grants that I am now 21, but, really, I don't know how old I am.

"Mother had a chance to star me, but because I was too young she had me registered under the name of my cousin who died eight years before I was born, but of whom I am an exact counterpart. She was the real Mary Miles Minter. Minter was my aunt's name, the name of my mother's sister. Her first name was Mary; My mother's real first name is Pearl. She gets the name Shelby from a grandfather who was prominent in Kentucky. She just took it.

"After registering me as being a dead cousin, I was dressed up in long skirts and presented to the public as a midget.

"When I fell in love once, as I supposed, while in the Adirondacks, mother was upset, but she found recourse in the explanation. I was maturing early and was much older in worldly wisdom than the average girl of fourteen.

"Mother is one of the keenest business women ever, and Hetty Green had nothing on her. And her most sagacious bit of business was when she realized she could make the money with me by posing me as 'an innocent young thing, knowing nothing, but having a blank look and beautiful curls.'

"But I'm through with being shushed about and shut up."

Certain statements recently made by Miss Minter concerning events which occurred following the discovery of Taylor's dead body are regarded as possessing special significance by the police.

Mabel Normand, another film star, whose name was linked with that of Taylor at the time of his death, refused to discuss the affair in any way. Miss Normand, who is confined to a hospital as a result of injuries received last week, could not be seen, but through her secretary gave out this statement:

"I have not seen Mary Miles Minter for nearly a year and a half. I can see no reason why she should want to drag my name into this affair. I told all that I knew concerning Mr. Taylor at the time of his death and only wish to be left alone. It is too bad that my name should be dragged into this on account of the family squabbles between Miss Minter and her mother."

WARD LAWYERS HUNT ELUSIVE PAPERS

New York, Aug. 16.—Although armed with a certified copy of the court order permitting them to inspect the minutes of the Grand Jury that indicted Walter S. Ward for murder in connection with the shooting of Clarence E. Peters, counsel for Ward are meeting with difficulty in finding the State officials who have possession of the minutes. Ward attorneys intimated today that unless the minutes were produced immediately, contempt proceedings might be instituted. A panel of 150 talismen will be drawn tomorrow at White Plains for the trial on September 4. Owing to varied opinions held throughout the country, this panel may be insufficient.

TROLLEY DRAGS AUTO 50 FEET; 5 INJURED

Four small children and a man suffered injuries when an automobile truck, operated by Joseph M. Mgrdick, of No. 982 Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge, was struck in front of his home by a Harvard square bound trolley car. The automobile was pushed almost 50 feet by the trolley car. Mgrdick and the children were thrown to the street. The children were Leo, Rose, Lillian and Anna Beshgstian of No. 13 Mt. Auburn street, Cambridge, 4, 7, 11 and 15 years old, respectively.

Mgrdick was turning from Massachusetts avenue into his yard.

COAL RUSHED TO N. E.; FEAR OF FAMINE ENDS

Anthracite coal continues arriving in New England in large quantities and with the threat of a strike at the mines dissipated Boston dealers predict no famine this winter.

An average of 588 cars have passed through the New England gateways daily, against 417 cars a day in 1921.

This coal, according to W. A. Clark, President of the New England Coal Dealers' Association, is being delivered almost immediately to consumers with orders of long standing. It is thought that half the normal supply for this section will have been received by September 1.

WELCH COAL ORDERED.

Plans are being perfected today by some of the big Boston coal companies to bring large quantities of Welch anthracite to Boston for domestic use during the coming Winter. The Metropolitan Coal Company has already chartered several of the idle colliers which have been tied up in Boston harbor and will send them to Newcastle, Shields, and other Welch coal ports for cargoes in the immediate future.

Charters of foreign vessels are also being made by Boston coal dealers, in order to speed up delivery, and the Belgian steamship Remler is already on her way here with the firs tcargo. It is expected that hundreds of thousands of tons of foreign coal will arrive here before snow flies.

SOFT COAL A DRUG.

Welch anthracite was the best of the foreign coals which were brought to Boston to relieve the shortage last year. At that time the shortage was so acute, however, that almost any kind of coal which the British mine operators offered was eagerly snapped at by importers. At present there is no demand for bituminous coal in Boston, and it is not likely tha tmuch will be imported. The call is for anthracite—Pennsylvania anthracite if it can be obtained, or Welch as the best substitute.

BEGS WOOD FOR PROTECTION

Manila, P. I., Aug. 16 (I.N.S.)—Emilio Aguinaldo, former leader of the anti-American Filipino forces, today appealed personally to Governor-General Wood to protect him against a hostile band that is trying to steal his lands by armed force. He accused a member of the Senate of being a ringleader of the band.

Gen. Wood detailed Gen. Crane and Col. Johnston to investigate.

VALERA CALLED 'WAR WIDOW' BY COSGRAVE

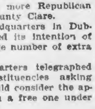
It is likely De Valera will be interned until after the election on August 27.

London, Aug. 16, (A.P.—The opinion is very general here that Eamon De Valera, arrested at Ennis yesterday, was less dangerous to the Free State as a fugitive than as a prisoner. It is believed that his detention will surely provoke reprisals and will strengthen his election campaign.

"We don't envy the Irish government its problem and are glad it's not ours," is the tenor of several newspaper editorials.

TO ESCAPE PROSECUTION.



E. De Valera

Dispatches from Ireland indicate nothing as to the probable future treatment of the prisoner, but it seems to be assumed in Dublin that he will not be prosecuted, merely being held with the other interned persons until the government sees fit to release him.

The Dublin correspondent of the Daily Telegraph reports that the Republican convention in that city, upon learning of the arrest, immediately chose three more Republican candidates for County Clare.

Republican headquarters in Dublin also announced its intention of nominating a large number of extra candidates.

County headquarters telegraphed the several constituencies asking whether they would consider the approaching election a free one under the circumstances.

Irish Press Approves Arrest of De Valera

Dublin, Aug. 16.—Countess Markiewicz, one of the most active of the women Republicans, in a speech here eulogized De Valera. The Free State police did not attempt to interfere with her.

The Irish press generally approves of De Valera's arrest and hope is expressed that it will not throw public sympathy towards the Sinn Fein.

The Republicans have issued an order dated August 11 and signed by De Valera, appointing Patrick Rutledge "Deputy President of the Irish Republic."

In a statement Rutledge said:

"William T. Cosgrave, (President of the Dail) said the Free State did not refuse any person the right to be heard. The arrest of De Valera prevented him from addressing his constituents. This shows up the government's pretence of free speech."

NAME MRS. BIRD TO NATIONAL G. O. P.

Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird

Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird of East Walpole, former chairman of the Women's Division of the Republican State Committee of Massachusetts, has been named as a member of the Republican National Committee for the Bay State, it was learned today.

She was one of thirty-five women named by that number of States, another New Englander being Mrs. Mary L. B. Steedman of Providence, R. I.

Mrs. Bird, who has been active for years in women suffrage and national politics, in 1921 was delegated by the National League of Women Voters as foreign correspondent for the committee on reduction of armament by international agreement.

Last year she was named by President Harding as one of the four women members of the Advisory Committee of the Limitation of Armaments Conference.

CABLE BRIEFS

Canton, Aug. 15 (A.P.)—In an interview on the Eastern front the Headquarters staff of the Constitutional forces declared reports of retreat of those forces were without foundation. Operations, the staff members said, were suspended on account of the flooded condition of the East River.

Tokio (A.P.)—The Social Affairs Bureau of the Home Affairs Department has decided to send a large number of Japanese emigrants to Brazil this year. It is estimated the move will cost 270,000 yen.

Liverpood, Eng., Aug. 16 (I.N.S.)—Fifty persons had a narrow escape today when the excursion steamer Douglas sank in the Mersey River after a collision. The passengers were taken off in time.

town streets, police say, with electric light crosses burning on the radiators. They left the machines to attend a Klan meeting at a hotel.

A man shouted his opinion of the flaunting of Klanology in the public streets of an American city. This drew a crowd. Murmurs were heard, growls, then cries of "Clean 'em up."

The machines were set upon, the crosses smashed, American flags torn off the machines and the vehicles overturned and wrecked. The noise and confusion brought police, also the Klansmen from their meeting.

Then followed a riot such as the city has seldom known. The Ku Klux Klan men were set upon and badly beaten. Then they were forced to flee for their lives. Attempts of police to stop the battle were ineffectual. It ceased only when the last Klansman had vanished.

The disturbance followed a day of excitement, it being election day. A candidate for the mayoralty said to have been backed by the Ku Klux Klan was defeated.

CLEAN UP TANGLE ON DuPONT SITE

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 16.—Negotiations will be consummated in their entirety within two days, and the E. I. Du Pont de Nemours Corporation of Wilmington, Del., will then be able to proceed without any interference on the part of the government toward erection of a $4,000,000 silk fibre plant here, Major P. J. O'Shaughnessy, representative of the War Department, announced here today. Fraud in the sale of the site had been charged by the government.

The Automobile Heaven
Gasoline 15 Cents
Beauties of Competition
Big Fortune—Good Things

—By Arthur Brisbane—

Copyright, 1923, by Star Company.

SAN SIMEON, CAL., Aug. 15.—The Indian believed in a heaven for bison, dogs, horses—the Indian bossing it all. The Turk believes in a heaven for good fighters, filled with handsome young ladies, not married, and highly perfumed.

California IS a heaven for motorists. Read the gasoline price signs, travel over perfect roads, through a sublime country, and you will know why.

YOU KNOW about the gasoline war in South Dakota. The Governor decided that gasoline users were worthy of consideration and proceeded to sell gasoline, under State ownership, for 16 cents a gallon. Big oil companies said it couldn't be done, but they also are now selling in South Dakota for 16 cents a gallon. That's because of a FIGHT.

IN CALIFORNIA such things happen without a fight. In Los Angeles gasoline costs from 13½ to 15 cents a gallon. And the hotel signs along the road to San Francisco read "Garage free." How is that for a motoring heaven?

AT SAN LUIS OBISPO, the seat of this county, not a big town, you are forced to think about public ownership and the frequent statement, "Competition is more economical."

SAN LUIS OBISPO has two Standard Oil gasoline stations, beautifully equipped, all utensils of shining copper, each with three attendants in spic and span white uniforms. The "Shell Company" has two stations, the Associated Oil Company has two stations. The Union Oil Company has one station. And there are two private stations for selling gasoline and oil.

Please observe, NINE expensive, well equipped concerns for selling gasoline in ONE small town. And only ONE postoffice.

Do you think the postoffice could carry letters from Miami to the extreme end of Alaska for two cents if a little town like San Luis Obispo had nine postoffices, employing 27 postmasters?

Some day the people will find that public ownership CAN PAY, and they will make it pay.

But the time hasn't come for public retail business, YET, unless combinations and monopolies prove too extortionate.

SHIPS, RAILROADS, telephone, telegraph, electric light and gas should gradually be taken over by the people—paying a fair price always. These are natural government monopolies. Other business, oil, coal, etc., should be left to private management for the present, but with strict public supervision and private control. An occasional public ownership retailing experiment such as the Governor of South Dakota makes now is, however, an excellent thing in the way of education.

GIGANTIC FORTUNES will go with private ownership of natural resources. But don't worry about that.

Far from being a bad thing for the world, the modern great fortune, used to develop industry, is destined to be the foundation of future civilization.

ONLY SUCH a fortune as Rockefeller's could enable him to send men into the Arctic Circle to hunt for oil and develop it there; to Central America to wipe out the epidemic-breeding places of yellow fever; to China to fight the plague, where it starts, or collect the best scientists in his great New York institute to study diseases, conquer them and protect children.

ONLY SUCH a fortune as Henry Ford's could enable him to produce the necessary means of transportation on a gigantic scale at a minimum of cost, and to make experiments in railroad ownership that the country needs, experiments that prove the incompetency of ordinary railroad management, and the extortionate character of ordinary railroad charges.

THE GREAT FORTUNE in industry is like a great waterfall in power. Niagara represents merely a great number of small waterfalls combined in one, developing gigantic energy.

Separated into millions of little waterfalls a few feet high, Niagara's power would be worthless. So with the big fortunes, CONCENTRATION gives them power. Scattered, they could do little.

COULD KISS COP WHO GOT THEM COAL

MRS. JEANIE PARKER AND DAUGHTERS

"I could just kiss that policeman," Mrs. Jeanie G. Parker of No. 22 Allston street, said of Patrolman John Corcoran of Joy street, after the latter made possible the realization of her dreams of having a full coal bin.

Mrs. Parker had pleaded for months with the coal company to deliver her order. When the coal truck finalyy arrived the coal men threatened to leave without delivering the coal because several automobiles were parked in front of the house, blocking access to the cellar window. Patrolman Corcoran responded to Mrs. Parker's frantic cries for aid and cleared up the situation by moving the automobiles.

SWOONS AS COP LEVELS HIS PISTOL

West Springfield, Aug. 16.—Frightened into a dead faint by the leveled revolver of a West Springfield patrolman at the door of her home, Mrs. H. C. Allen, of Amostown street, today is under the care of a physician.

Her condition is made more serious by the fact that she recently gave birth to a baby.

Her husband, after seeking redress in vain from the police department and the selectmen, has brought a civil suit against Motorcycle Patrolman Charles A. McCarthy.

McCarthy called at the Allen home a month ago to serve a summons for a violation of the automobile parking laws in Springfield. He was greeted by a bulldog owned by the Allens, and wounded the animal with a shot from his revolver.

Yesterday he called agin at the Allen home to serve a summons on Allen's father, Roswell Allen. He was again greeted by the dog, who growled at the officer from behind the screen-door.

McCarthy pulled his revolver and was aiming at the dog, when Mrs. Allen cme to the door. She saw the gun and collapsed with fright.

McCarthy is alleged to have made no attempt to revive the woman, but merely shoved the summons under the door and left.

MRS. SLATER IN SUIT OVER CASTLE

Counsel for Mrs. Horatio N. Slater, multi-millionaire widow of the Webster textile king, today took action to bring before the Supreme Court the claim of Mrs. Samuel Slater for the purchase and upkeep of an ancestral castle in England.

Mrs. Samuel Slater, who is the widow of Mrs. Slater's stepson, claims that Mrs. Horatio Slater promised to pay for the castle when she and the stepson were married in England.

The elder Mrs. Slater is now traveling in Europe.

She recently waged a successful legal battle for the control of half a million dollars which was held by trustees.

USED AUTO LICENSE LEFT HIM IN WILL

Washington, Aug. 16.—When arrested for operating an automobile without a driver's permit, John Stewart told Justice Schuldt of the traffic court that the permit he carried was his late uncle's and was entirely sufficient because his uncle, in a will, had bequeathed his operator's permit for the personal use of his "loving nephew." Justice Schuldt did not agree with John. The fine was $100.

JULY TRADE BALANCE TOTALS $26,000,000

Washington, Aug. 16.—A favorable trade balance of $26,000,000 is shown by the official figures on the country's exports and imports for July, issued today at the Department of Commerce.

It was the first month in which exports had exceeded imports since last February. Exports in July totaled $310,000,000 and imports $284,000,000.

BRITISH PEACE PLAN SPURNED BY POINCARE

Mayence, Aug. 16 (I.N.S.)—The Inter-Allied High Commission today extended indefinitely the blockade between occupied and occupied Germany. It was to have been lifted today.

Paris, Aug. 16 (AP).—Premier Poincare's reply to the latest British note will stoutly reaffirm the French position on the reparation issue, it was forecast today. It will reject the British proposals for submission of the legality of the occupation of the Ruhr to the Permanent Court of International Justice and for an International Commission of Experts to reinstate the paying capacity of Germany.

The Premier will dwell on the French contention that Germany counts on British support and that she will pay nothing so long as she feels she can rely on London for backing or so long as she feels that the British government is in a frame of mind favoring mediation.

M. Poincare will admit the necessity of a moratorium for Germany, but will argue there is no reason to consider reduction of her obligations before she has shown willingness to pay, and that, simply because the German manufacturing interests have been allowed to leave payments for their exports on deposit abroad and have been permitted to evade taxation, the allies are in no way called upon to modify their just reparation demands.

The depreciation of the German currency, the premier will point out, has extinguished Germany's interior debt, while she has no foreign debt, he holds, other than for reparations, and has greatly reduced her previous burden of expenditure for the military establishment.

The result of the British policy, in the Premier's opinion, would be to allow Germany practically to evade all payments and emerge from the situation stronger than ever, ready to compete ruinously with Great Britain as well as the rest of the world. In conclusion he will declare that it is impossible for France to accept the British views without putting her own independence in jeopardy.

Reighstag Votes Huge Mortgage on Wealth

Berlin, Aug. 16.—A resolution calling on the German Government to take mortgages on all German industry, land and property as part of the national wealth was adopted by all the coalition parties in the Reichstag in sympathy with the new government.

The plan is intended to give solidity to the gold currency scheme of the new leaders.

Chancellor Stresemann and Finance Minister Hilferding originated the mortgage plan, which is supported by all parties except the extremely reactionary German National Party.

Hugo Stinnes, German financial wizard, opposes the proposition, although the People's Party, to which both he and the Chancellor belong, favors what virtually amounts to partial confiscation of private capital in case of a national emergency.

Washington—The Veterans' Bureau has notified the Directors of the Budget that during the twelve months period beginning next July 1, it will be able to carry on its activities with an expenditure of $35,500,000 less than originally estimated.

SLAYER OF TWO WILL FIGHT

Tsekos' Counsel to Contest Extradition; Demands Test for Sanity

Sheriff George A. Wooster of Concord, N. H., came to Boston today with extradition papers for the return to Franklin, N. H., of Nunie George Tsekos, charged with the murder of his wife and mother-in-law.

Sheriff Wooster informed Assistant Attorney-General Louis Goldberg that after the extradition is granted, the Attorney-General of New Hampshire will come to Boston, and together they will interview Tsekos in his cell at East Cambridge.

However, Attorney William Shaw McCallum, counsel for Tsekos, has informed Governor Cox that his client will fight extradition, and requested a formal hearing. This may be granted him this afternoon. Tsekos has repudiated his confession of the double killing.

McCallum announced he would fight extradition on the ground that his client was entitled to an examination as to his sanity before leaving the jurisdiction of the State. He went into conference with Assistant Attorney-General Goldberg on that point.

INSANE, SAYS BROTHER.

His brother, Paul Tsekos, insists that Nunie was insane at the time he killed his wife and mother-in-law. In a statement given today to the Boston American, Paul said:

"Nunie has always been a very industrious and quiet man. Anyone who knows him will tell you that in his business he was always scrupulously honest. For years he has been making very good money, sometimes as much as $60 or $70 a week. And yet he had to borrow money from his mother only yesterday.

"How is it that he has not saved anything? I will tell you. His wife has always been extravagant. She did not care for him as a wife should. Her mother was as bad.

ATTACKED BY HIS WIFE.

"I know of times when Nunie has been struck by plates and other missiles thrown by his wife. He bears the mark of such an occurrence now. Moreover, his wife was not faithful. Many times while my brother was hard at work to support his family she as giving parties to men friends at his home.

"He stood it as long as he could. Eventually it became so bad that something snapped his brain. The result was this murder.

"My brother is not worried at the thought of what may become of him. His entire worry is centred on his children. Only yesterday he asked me what I thought could be done to provide them with living expenses and schooling.

MAGNUS NOT AFRAID OF U. S. GOING SOVIET

Belle Plain, Minn., Aug. 16.—Magnus Johnson, United States Senator-elect from Minnesota, at a farmers business men's picnic, declared he was "not afraid that the country is going Soviet." He said he was "going to Washington to fight for the farmer, because he is deflated more than any one else, but I am not going to take anything away from the business men."

WORKER NEAR DEATH AFTER 40-FOOT FALL

William Olsen, forty-seven years old and single, of No. 65 West Brookline street, South End, is at City Hospital with multiple injuries as the result of a fall of forty feet from a building on which he was working at No. 165 Chestnut avenue, Jamaica Plain. He is on the hospital danger list.

ATTEMPTED TO KILL HER, WIFE CHARGES

Swampscott, Aug., 16.—Because Angelina Imperial refused to sign away her share of the family house at Crescent avenue, her husband, John Imperial, according to the police, grabbed a carving knife, scratched her badly and scared her worse. Chief of Police William P. Quinn arrested Imperial, charged with assault with intent to kill.

LEARNING STREET CAR JOB

ELEVATED WAGE ARBITERS TRY THE ONE-MAN CAR

George L. Mayberry, on lower step, boarding the one-man car at the Field's Corner barn to watch the work actually performed by the operator. At his right is Assistant General Counsel of the Road Charles W. Mulcahy. On the top step is Manager Edward Dana of the L, and at his left Attorney James H. Vahey, counsel for the men.

'L' TRAFFIC FOR SUMMER SETS NEW RECORD

At the public hearing in the El wage case today General Manager Dana testified that Summer traffic on the El has been heavier than ever before.

Last year was the biggest, he said, but the January and April traffic this year was 10 per cent. higher than in the same period a year ago and sincet hat time the riding has been 2 per cent. greater than in the same months of last Summer.

"The Elevated has become a vastly improved property since the public took it over," hes aid. "The improvement will continue. Whether the track and station improvements continue will depend on the ability of the trustees to raise new capital."

He said the trustees are considering group life insurance, to be given to all employes as ar eward for faithful service and as an inducement for them to continue their loyal work.

John Bicknell testified that the men's schedules can be arranged by the company so they could do their work within eight hours and within six hours on Sundays and holidays without adding a penny of expense to the carriers.

Peter J. Murphy of the agreement committee said that cranemen and hoisting engineers employed by the Elevated work for 71 cents an hour beside employes of private contractors who are paid $1.01 an hour for the same work.

Mr. Dana said the present plans of the trustees contemplate improvements which will cost $20,000,000. Half that amount will come from profits in operation, the other half from the sale of bonds.

The hearing closed this afternoon. Final arguments will be made on Monday.

BRIGHTON AUTOIST FINED $50 AS DRUNK

Albert S. Murray of 14 Warren street, Brighton, was fined $50 in Cambridge Court today for operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. Murray was arrested on July 7, when there was found in his car a case of ale, of which, it charged, he had imbibed freely.

Weird Sea-Monster Has Jointed Tail Like Rudder

Miami, Fla., Aug. 16.—A strange sea monster has drifted ashore on Key Biscayne, a few miles southeast of Miami, weighing about one thousand pounds.

About eight feet long, it is four feet in depth and only a foot across. It has a head shaped in a semi-circle extending from back to belly across the face.

Large eyes are but a few inches from a remarkably small mouth, and in the way of fins it has two small ones, but a few innches long and shaped somewhat like shark fins.

A tail, or rudder shaped fin, is the only other. The skin is similar to a shark's, but not so tough.

The rudder or tail fin seems to be hinged as a ship's rudder. There is a joint before this fin, which permitted it to swing back and forth, used probably to guide the fish. This fin or tail gives the end of the fish the appearance of being cut off square with the body.

New York, Aug. 16.—J. T. Nichols, head of the piscatory department of the American Museum of Natural History, said today that the sea monster found ashore on Key Biscayne, Fla., undoubtedly was an ocean sun fish or mola mola.

BONDING COMPANY SUED FOR $75,000

Suit for $125,000 was entered in Suffolk Superior Court today by Brown Brothers & Co., bankers, against the London & Lancashire Indemnity Company of America to recover a bond of $75,000 which the Green & Hickey Leather Company of Shrewsbury gave to Brown Brothers to avoid a special precept of attachment. Brown Brothers brought suit against the leather company and the Supreme Court decided they were entitled to recover $87,329.78. The leather company failed to pay and the suit against the bonding firm resulted.

MAYBERRY RUNS 1-MAN CAR TO GET THE DOPE

George L. Mayberry rolled out of bed at half-past five this morning at his Summer home in Hull, gulped a cup of coffee and piece of toast and jumped into his waiting automobile for a 27-mile dash to Fields Corner, where he operated a Boston Elevated one-man car.

The distinguished lawyer, serving as the neutral arbiter in the wage case, did his bit at the request of the 4,000 blue-uniformed workers who contend that the operators of the vexatious one-man cars are entitled to a differential rate of eight cents an hour and then some.

The program laid out for Mr. Mayberry by Business Agent Matthew J. McLaughlin, was along these lines:

Starts the car.
Stops the car.
Opens the door.
Closes the door.
Collects the fares.
Makes change.
Punches the transfer
Calls out the stops.
Sands the track.
Throws the switches.
Puts on the trolley.
Swears at the autos.
Chases the kids off the rear end.
Goes home at night and makes out his report.

If Mr. Mayberry should report all this is easy to do, the "El" may decide to put candy stands in the cars to give the motormen something to keep them busy.

Mr. Mayberry rode on a one-manner from the Field's Corner carbarn via Park street and Adams street to Minot street, and thence back to the barn over the same route.

He was accompanied by James H. Vahey, counsel for the union, and Assistant General Counsel Charles W. Mulcahy and Manager Edward Dana of the Elevated. At some later date he will ride on one of the lines to be selected by the El as "typical" of one-man car operation.

SENATOR IS CONFIDENT OF VICTORY

Predicts Coolidge Will Sign Bill, but Adds Any Veto Will Be Overridden

Washington, Aug. 16 (I.N.S.)—Congress will provide a bonus for America's four million World-War veterans as soon as it reconvenes, Senator Reed Smoot, Republican, of Utah, next chairman of the Senate Finance Committee predicted today.

Smoot declared he expected President Coolidge to sign the bill as it is enacted by Congress, but warned the measure would become a law, if necessary, over a Presidential veto.

While personally advocating a bill, providing a sales tax for raising the bonus revenue, Smoot said Congress probably would pass the same kind of measure enacted at the last session and vetoed by the late President Harding.

SURE OF A VICTORY.

The old bill was sponsored by the American Legion.

"There is no longer any doubt that the bonus bill will become a law," said Smoot. "There should be some provision in it, however, to raise money to pay it. I personally advocate a sales tax, but I rather expect the bill will be passed in its old form and I think that measure will be reintroduced in the next session.

"I cannot say for certain whether President Coolidge will sign the bonus. I expect him to, but if he does not, then Congress will pass it over his veto. No man can block the bonus. It will become a law.

FAVORS SALES TAX.

"I feel, though, Congress should provide revenue to meet the bonus obligations. I recognize that farmers and labor organizations are opposed to the sales tax and as long as they remain opposed, it is futile to attempt the enactment of any sales tax legislation. Nevertheless, in the near future, legislation involving the sales tax principle will be written into our laws.

"It is the most just tax that can be levied and, with exemptions, I fail to see why any farmer or laboring organization can object to it."

WEST END BOY HURT IN RUNAWAY CRASH

Larry Annello of 190 Chambers street, West End, sustained severe injuries to the scalp when hurled from his father's wagon on which he was riding in Merrimac Square.

Larry Annello

The horses of an American Express Company truck, frightened by a passing street car, ran away while the driver was in a lunchroom, and struck the horse of Annello's outfit, knocking the animal down and upsetting the wagon. Boy and his father were thrown out. The father was treated for lacerations by a neighboring physician, but the boy was taken to Haymarket Relief Station. He was able to go home this morning.

MRS. SWINNERTON DIVORCED BY AUTHOR

London, Aug. 16.—Frank Swinnerton, the noted novelist, in whose novels ladies defy the conventions and get away with it, is a victim of his own theories. His wife eloped with his best friend, Ralph Gommie, and Swinnerton is making a terrible fuss about it. He has been granted a divorce after bitter criticism of his erring wife.

8-HOUR DAY IN WORCESTER WIRE MILL

Worcester, Aug. 16—The American Steel and Wire Company has put the eight-hour day into effect in its plant here, superseding the twelve-hour plan which has been in operation for years.

The company started shifting its twelve hour men, of whom there were about 150, the first of the week. At present fifty of this number have been placed on the reduced hour shift, and the others will be changed as fast as sufficient men can be hired.

The rest of the plant is on a ten-hour day, which will not be changed for some time.

JANITOR HELD IN ATTACK ON GIRLS

Frederick Jones, colored, a janitor of an apartment house at No. 309 Huntington avenue, appeared before Judge Palmer in the Roxbury Court today, charged with attacking two sisters, aged nine and twelve, of Roxbury. He was held in $2,000 bail for a hearing next week.

Free of Gallagher

MRS. HELEN GALLAGHER

Mrs. Helen Gallagher was awarded a divorce in New York courts from Edward F. Gallagher of Mister Shean fame. The interlocutory decree will become final in three months. The alimony question was settled out of court.

MAYOR PASSES UP HOSPITAL RUM PROBE

Mayor Curley said today he would not order an investigation of allegations that liquor is consumed in large quantities in the wards of the Boston Sanitorium at Mattapan.

He stated, after he had held a conversation over the telephone, with an official in charge, "that it is probably true, but there is no way to prevent it."

The Mayor also said there has been no disturbances other than the recent fatality in which one patient was killed by another, which he recounted as follows:—

"The patient who did the killing had a small quantity of liquor on his person. He was lighting matches in bed. The other patient approached him with the intention of remonstrating with him for so doing. The first patient, thinking he was about to be relieved of his liquor, attacked the other with fatal results."

84 JAILED IN LIQUOR PLOT AT SAVANNAH

Washington, Aug. 16.—More important arrests are expected by officials here in the liquor conspiracy case at Savannah. Eighty-four persons have been taken into custody.

Department of Justice officials said today they believed the move had broken up one of the largest bootleg forces in the United States.

William Haar, C. Graham Baugn, Sam Goldberg and Richard Bailey, who were among the fifty-two arrested in the first roundup, are believed here to constitute the "big four" of the ring, which is said to have supplied the bulk of the liquors reaching the market along the Atlantic seaboard as far north as New Jersey.

Haar formerly was a grocery clerk, but now is reputed to be worth millions. Officers said he had been indicted recently for failure to make returns on an income of $1,000,000.

CUBA WILL LIQUIDATE $7,000,000 U. S. LOAN

Havana, Aug. 16.—President Zayas has signed a decree by which Cuba will liquidate a loan of $7,000,000 negotiated in the United States during the World War. Secretary of the Treasury Cartava will complete the liquidation within the next few days.

BABY CLINGS TO BRICK IN WELL; MOTHER MAKES HEROIC RESCUE

Carthage, Tex., Aug. 16.—A 2¼-year-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Woodyard saved itself from drowning by clinging to a protruding brick in a deep well for more than half an hour.

Missed by the mother, a search revealed the infant in its perilous position. Mrs. Woodyard climbed down a rope and rescued the baby, which was exhausted but otherwise uninjured.

GIRL'S ALLEGED ABDUCTOR PUT ON TRIAL

William App, Woburn married man and father, charged with the abduction of eight-year-old Grace Drew of Melrose a month ago, was placed on trial today in Saugus Court.

The courtroom was crowded with girls curious as to what took place at the shores of Lilly Pond where the young girl was abandoned in such a serious condition she was in a hospital for two weeks.

Miss Grace Crowell testified to seeing App with a child answering the Drew girl's description drive past her on the night of the attack as she stood in Main street, Saugus. She caught the number plate on the automobile which led to App's arrest.

Efforts of Defense Attorney Sullivan to break down the witness failed.

App failed to appear when court convened. He believed the trial was scheduled for tomorrow. Court Officer William Murray caught him by telephone in Salem. App then taxied to court. He denies the abduction charging a "frameup."

The Drew girl identified him as her assailant in the hospital after being wheeled into a corridor from bed.

Sight Swarms of Porpoise and Blackfish

Captain J. A. McLean of the United Fruit liner San Jose, which arrived today from the tropics, declared that all the blackfish and porpoises of the seven seas are holding a convention 200 miles south of Nantucket. The San Jose passed through the convention late Tuesday and the passengers and crew were treated to a most unusual sight.

The ocean mammals were doing sprints, distance races, high hurdles, ground and lofty tumbling, high diving and other fancy stunts, while the herring and flying fish scurried for other places.

STANDARD OIL HOLDS OFF ON RAISE IN GAS

Chicago, Aug. 16 (I.N.S.)—The Standard Oil Company of Indiana serving eleven mid-West states, decided here today not to raise the price of gasoline from 15.4 cents a gallon to 20 cents immediately, as had been contemplated.

Instead, the directors voted to wait and see what action will be taken by Governor McMaster of South Dakota, who announced the state's price would be increased from 16 to 20 cents on Saturday.

Gov. McMaster's decision to raise the price to 20 cents followed a protest from independent oil dealers of South Dakota that the 16 cent price fixed by the Comminwealth oil dealers and which started a "price war" throughout the Middle West, was ruinous.

Directors of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana today telegraphed Gov. McMaster, tendering him any information or assistance in the investigation he said he would make into the cost of distribution in his State.

FOOD QUERY DEPARTMENT

YOUR FOOD PURCHASING DIFFICULTIES SOLVED

— A THURSDAY FEATURE —

Are you at a loss as to where you can secure some particular brand or kind of foodstuffs? If so, write the Boston American Food Query Editor. We will answer your inquiry in these columns as quickly as possible.

Food Query Editor:

Please supply the following information. How much and what kind of food is advisable to take for a week's camping trip in the mountains. The party consists of three ladies and three men. Is it possible to take any fresh meat that will keep? Please take into consideration the fact that we will have to carry all our supplies. Thanking you in advance.

Back Bay, Mass. A. E.

The following list of food stuffs is appropriate for camping parties for one week, as they will keep without ice and are easily prepared. Coffee, tea, condensed or evaporated milk, package cereal, sugar, molasses, syrup, crackers plain, sweet or fancy, bacon, cooked ham, fresh eggs, canned soups, canned fruits and vegetables such as peaches, pears, peas, beans, tomatoes, corn, canned meats such as corn beef and roast beef hash, ox tongue, veal loaf, tripe, roast mutton, chicken and many other canned products, sardines, kippered herrings, tuna fish, baked beans, plain or with tomato sauce, jellies, jams or preserves. In addition to the above, you can carry fresh meats, such as broilers, chops, steak, etc., which will last for the first day or two. Regarding quantity of supplies required, this would be hard for me to determine as I do not know how large a variety you will require.

Food Query Editor:

Where may I purchase "Little Nemo" brand Wisconsin June table peas? It is packed by the Fame Canning Company, Inc., of Chicago and is recommended to me as a superior article. I will much appreciate any information you may be kind enough to give me. MRS. J. M.

Brookline, Mass.

We have been unable to locate a retail store handling "Little Nemo" brand of Wisconsin table peas, but we have located the distributor in this territory and your grocer can procure these goods by telephone or writing Abbot Hall & Co., 12 South Market street, or telephone Richmond 3510.

Food Query Editor:

Seeing in your valuable paper about a remedy called Intervin, a food for the treatment of diabetes, thought you could help me by telling me through your paper where I could obtain this Intervin, if it is on the market. Thanking you in advance, I remain a diabetic. W. M. H.

Cambridge, Mass.

We have gone through quite a list of diabetic foods, but have been unable to locate any by the name of Intervin. We, however, would recommend you to get in touch with Dr. F. G. Brigham, No. 35 Bay State road; Dr. Elliot P. Joslin, No. 81 Bay State road, or the Deaconess Hospital. The above doctors and hospital are making a special study of diabetes and you no doubt will be able to receive some profitable information from any one of these sources.

Food Query Editor:

I want to know where I can buy in Boston, or order anywhere in the United States, Rye Flakes, a cereal to eat without cooking, as Corn Flakes. Your reply in the Boston American or direct by enclosed card and stamped envelope will greatly oblige me. Also what day of the week answers of the Food Query Editor are published. J. H. A.

Boston, Mass.

You can secure Rye Flakes in any of the S. S. Pierce stores for 17 cents a package. These flakes can be served just the same as corn flakes.

Food Query Editor:

Please tell me where I can buy Vacuum Improved Coffee, Sprague, Warner & Co., Chicago, Ill.? Do they sell same in New England? With many thanks (Richelieu Brand.) M. R. FANE.

We have written Sprague, Warner & Co., Chicago, asking them to let us know where one could obtain their Richelieu Brand Vacuum Improved Coffee in New England and they have answered our letter as follows:

"We received yours of recent date asking where you could purchase our Richelieu Brand Vacuum Improved Coffee in Boston or New England, and in reply we would say that we have asked our Mr. C. E. Stevenson, who is our representative in New England, to call upon you at the earliest moment and give you the names of our customers in that section of the product, so you no doubt will hear from Mr. Stevenson within the next few days."

Up to the present time we have not heard from Mr. C. E. Stevenson, but as soon as we do we will answer your query.

EXPECT PRICE OF GAS TO GO UP

Chicago, Aug. 16 (A.P.)—Prospects of increases in the prices of gasoline which were recently reduced, loomed today with a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, called to consider the action of Governor McMaster of South Dakota in raising gasoline prices in that State from 16 cents to 20 cents, effective Saturday.

The whole gasoline price question revolves about the South Dakota situation. Col. R. W. Stewart, chairman of the directorate, declared the action of the South Dakota executive proved the contention of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana that consequences had not been considered, nor expert advice asked when the Governor cut prices from 26 to 16 cents. He intimated that the company may set prices higher than 20 cents.

Except in the extreme Western States, every section of the country had gasoline at reduced rates today.

Heavy sales of motor fuel in Chicago, where auto owners are filling every available container in their houses in preparation for advances in price, have caused fire department officials to issue warnings.

APOLOGIZES FOR ATTACK ON COURT

Springfield, Aug. 16.—After making a public apology for criticising the courts, Arthur C. Yost, business agent for the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, today paid a fine of $50 for contempt in district court.

The fine was imposed by Judge Wallace R. Heady, after Yost had admitted responsibility for a statement which appeared in one of the local newspapers recently.

The statement criticized the court for imposing jail sentences on three clothing strikers who were found guilty of assault. It further declared that justice could not be obtained in the Police Court and that the strikers were railroaded to jail.

In court today Yost admitted he was responsible for the statement, but said it had been "misinterpreted."

To Wed Banker

Miss Eleanor C. Perkins of No. 251 Perkins street, Jamaica Plain and Lewis Pierce Mansfield, an investment banker of New York and Portland, Maine, will be married at the home of Miss Perkins' parents, on Saturday, September 22. Miss Perkins is the daughter of Charles Bruen Perkins.

BEGIN 8-HOUR DAY IN BIG PLANTS

Pittsburgh, Aug. 16.—The "long day," twelve hours, in the blast furnace, open hearth and Bessemer converter departments of many steel mills in the Pittsburgh district saw the beginning of the end today, with the inauguration of the three-shift plan in plants where it was possible to recruit the required number of workmen.

For the present, some men in the rolling mills and in other departments must continue to work ten hours, but these, too, will go on eight hours as soon as additional men can be found.

The Carnegie Steel Company of the United States Steel Corporation was the first to try out the plan, with the short turn in force at Homestead, Duquesne, Donora and Clairton, as far as the number of available men would allow.

All laborers under the plan are to receive an increase in wages to $4 for the eight-hour day.

MANY FLAGS FULL-STAFFED SHOULD BE HALF-MASTED

Varying ways in which flags are flown on municipal, county and private buildings, in connection with the death of President Harding has resulted in a flood of letters to police headquarters.

The writers point out that, while the regulations call for half-staffed flags for thirty days after the President's death, a great many in the city are again at full staff.

Among these are the flag on City Hall and the Suffolk County courthouse, while that of police headquarters, across the way, is properly half-staffed. The flag on Quincy Market is full staffed, while Faneuil Hall, opposite, is half mast.

An order was sent out originally to all army posts to the effect that the flags should be flown at half staff only five days. Later the error was discovered.

DUISBERG FINED 3 BILLION MARKS FOR BOMB KILLINGS

Dusseldorf, Aug. 16 (AP)—The Belgian authorities have imposed a fine of 3,000,000,000 marks on the City of Duisburg as a penalty for the bomb explosion on a train near that city late in June, when ten Belgian soldiers were killed and two score injured.

CLEVER NEW YORK MERMAIDS ENTER BOSTON AMERICAN SWIM

MANY THRILLS PROMISED IN CHARLES BASIN RACES

Two of the cleverest mermaids from New York State will compete in the swimming races for girls in Charles River Basin next Saturday afternoon under the auspices of the Boston American.

They are Misses Frances and Ruth Meany of the Women's Swimming Association of New York, sisters of Helen Meany, former national women's diving champion. Ruth is ten years of age and Frances is twelve. Both have entered the half-mile novice, for girls who have never won a prize in a swimming contest.

This is the first time they will have been in open competition and Greater Moston girls will have an opportunity of trying their skill against them.

Charlotte Epstein of the Women's Swimming Association predicts a great future for Ruth Meany and as this association has turned out such famous champions as Helen Wainright and Gertrude Ederle, her prediction will be followed with interest by all lovers of the sport.

PROMISE THRILLS

Mrs. Ethel Mitchell of Lakeport, N. H. who made her initial appearance in this country July 4th by winning second in the N. E. A. A. U. 100-yard championship after four years of inactivity, will be another star performer in Saturday's races. She wil be pitted against Miss Mollie McEttrick of Brookline, present New England champion in the 100-yard dash. This race should furnish plenty of thrills for the spectators as Mrs. Mitchell held the Northern Counties Championship in England in 1914. She was a member of the Chadderton A. S. club of England and was also a football player of considerable ability.

Many other star swimmers will participate in the six races on Saturday furnishing splendid competition in all events. Much interest is centered in the mile open. A thrilling race is looked for.

FAVORITES IN MILE.

The favorites, all of whom are in excellent condition, include Miss Olive Holland of Wollaston, four-time winner; Miss Delma Carlstrom of Worcester, who won second last year and whose nine-mile swim toward Boston Light last Sunday showed her ability to advantage; Miss Ruth Norwood of New Bedford, who won third last season; Miss Grace Bourdon of Marlboro, who surprised everybody by finishing fourth last year; May Eckford of Lawrence, who won fifth; Eleanor J. Daley of Worcester, who came in eighth, and Mary Matz, who finished ninth. In addition many other girls who were well up in the lead at the finish last year will compete again Saturday.

In addition to the diving exhibition of Miss Agnes Mack and Anna Kane of Charlestown, Edward A. Erickson and James A. Wilcox, both of Providence will give an exhibition of fancy diving. These are the two cleverest men divers in New England, Erickson being the New England interscholastic champion and Wilcox the New England A. A. U. champion.

Swiming Carnival Prizes Displayed on Summer St.

The prizes to be awarded to the girls winning the swimming races to be conducted by the Boston American in Charles River Basin next Saturday afternoon are being displayed in the main window of Cobb, Bates & Yerxa Company store at Summer and Chauncy streets. They will remain in the window until tomorrow night. These prizes include leather traveling bag, week-end case, pearl necklace with diamond clasp, silver lavalliers and gold, silver and bronze medals. Thousands of persons viewed the display today.

Entries closed today at noon with the Swimming Editor of the Boston American. Girls who were unable to register in time should get in touch with H. B. Fenno, President State Street, Boston.

RECENT ENTRANTS.

Among the recent entrants are Elizabeth F. Upham, No. 4 Tyler street, Malden; Doris MacCann, Pawtucket, R. I.; Evelyn and Stella Luby, No. 87 Elmwood street, Roxbury; Marie Coupard, No. 167 Huntington avenue, Roxbury; Mary L. Smith, No. 140 Bayswater street, East Boston; Etta Kingsley, No. 1 Dudley street, Roxbury; Julia O'Connor, No. 152 Walnut street, Somerville; Louise Stafford, No. 418 Ocean avenue, Revere; Edith O'Brien, No. 37 Taft street, Revere; Evelyn Feingold, No. 169 Shirley street, Revere; May Brande, No. 88 State road, Beachmont; Florence Feingold, No. 169 Shirley avenue, Revere and Irene C. Nilson, No. 1040 Washington street, Gloucester.

Additional mermaids entered include Helen Simpson, 16, of No. 143 Summer street, Medford, in the mile; Mary J. Kelly, of No. 17 East Milton road, Milton; Rena MacDonald, Kensington road, Hyde Park, in the mile; and Mary Nelson, of No. 346 Bremen street, East Boston; Julia O'Connell, Winter Hill, Somerville; Opel and Ruth Goff, No. 31 Marshall street, Somerville; Helen Beane, No. 39 Sherman street, Roxbury; Miss Mary Kerrigan, No. 8 Fountain street, Roxbury, and Miss Mabel Hughes, No. 120 West Fifth street, South Boston.

MATRONS IN CHARGE.

Several motherly matrons will have charge of the girls' dressing tent including Mrs. Nora McArdle, Dora O'Connell and Mary Corrigan. Miss Katherine McArdle and Miss Carrie Deihl will be assistant clerks of course. Additional officials will be Alex Sutherland, former Tech and Yale coach; Harry Hayes and Tom Doherty.

Under the leadership of Captain Jack Wallace, instructor of the life saving corps of the Boston Metropolitan Chapter, American Red Cross, twenty-eight Red Cross life savers have volunteered for duty at Saturday's races. They are: Walter Bedingfield, Alfred F. Pridgeman, Jr., Charles E. Campbell, William G. Ellicott, William B. Hanlon, Preston C. Hatch, Jack Kelley, Arthur Kimball, Edwin S. Kundsin, Benjamin Levitt, Joseph A. McLaughlin, David McSweeney, S. S. Mitchell, Herman D. Morrison, George D. Noxon, Clifford D. Stewart, Alfred R. Thompson, Donald F. Walsh, James G. Willett, Harry W. Porter, Leo B. McKeon, Gordon H. Kunz, S. A. Towne, J. H. Melville, Cavan A. Dunn, Arthur B. Falkon, James P. Goodhue and Oliver Tammi.

Others who will act as lifeguards are William Duffy, George Dedham, John Carnie, John H. Murphy, Edward Murtagh, Eddie Travers.

SEIZE U. S. SHIPS UNDER SOVIET-BRITISH PACT

Seattle, Wasch., Aug. 16.—Conditions that led to the seizure of four American commercial vessels by Siberian Soviet authorites were disclosed by L. Seidenverg, a Seattle trader, just returned from Kamchatka.

The Hudson's Bay Company of London since Spring has held a monopoly of trading along the Siberian coast from the southern end of the Kamchatka peninsula north, Mr. Seidenverg said. He added that the agreement of the Hudson's Bay Company with the Soviet was the largest transcation made is Asiatic Russia in many years.

The Okhotsk Sea, on the western side of Kamchatka peninsula, remains open to traders of all nations.

All furs must be sold to the Hudson's Bay Company in the region covered by its concession, which includes the rich Anadir district and part of the Arctic coast of Siberia.

"The Soviet authorities have established law and order and business principles in Kamchatka and Siberia," narated Mr. Seidenverg. "In this they are an improvement on the so-called White Government that prevailed in Kamchatka until last winter."

APOLOGY TO END INCE-STEWART BATTLE

New York, Aug. 16. (I.N.S.)—Much of the mystery surrounding the attack on George Stewart, brother of Anita Stewart, film star, by Ralph H. Ince, photoplay director, was dissipated today.

At the hospital which Stewart was taken, suffering from a fracture of the skull, it was said he was recovering.

Stewart doubtless will apologize to Mr. Ince before this is over," Nathan Vidover, attorney for Ince, said.

The trouble between the mn, Vidamer asserted, began when Ince spoke to an acquaintance, seatd at a table at Post Lodge, a hotel on the oston post road, whom Stewart intensely disliked.

"That made Stewart angry,' Vidaver said. "All through the dinner he quarrelled with Mr. Ince."

"On the way back, Stewart became more and more abusive. Finally he struck Mr. Ince. Stewarts chauffeur, Voight, also sprang at him. In the melee Stewart was knocked down."

LAWRENCE LANDMARK SAVED BY FIREMEN

Lawrence, Aug. 16—Aerial ladders, water towers and all available apparatus of the Lawrence fire department were hurried to the old city hall building to save the hall tower and its surmounted gold eagle, an old landmark, from threatened destruction by fire.

NEWTON BOY THIEVES ARE TRAINED BY MODERN "FAGIN"

11 YOUTHS SEIZED AS BANDITS

Police Recover $2,000 Loot; Search Made for "Master Mind" of Bold Gang

A modern Fagin, acting with all the cunning that characterized that immortal personage in "Oliver Twist," is believed to be operating in Newton.

The discovery, by the Newton police, of three bands of boy bandits, who have looted wealthy Newton homes of jewelry and bric-a-brac to the value of $2,000 during the past month, has given rise to the belief that the "master mind" is a mature man, using the boys as his dupes.

To support that theory is the fact that the three bands, working independently of each other, used virtually the same methods of gaining entrance to the houses marked for plunder, and their actions after getting inside, indicated "coaching" by the same individual.

Eight of the eleven youths under arrest are from 10 to 13 years old. The other three are 14, 15 and 16, respectively. All of the youngsters live in the Newton Corner section of the city.

HEADQUARTERS IN HUT.

The three bands made their "rendezvous" at a little hut in rear of an Elmwood street garage. Here, it is believed, the schemes for robbery were conducted, at least in part. And it was here that the police found much of the loot.

Starting on July [illegible] and continuing until August [illegible] the police received almost daily reports of burglaries.

Inspectors John Shaughnessy and Richard Conroy, with Patrolman Frank Feeley were assigned to the case by Chief Bernard F. Burke of the Newton police.

They located the little hut and found some of the loot as well as some of the bandits.

JEWELRY HIDDEN

In a crevice in an old sewer pipe they found some jewelry. Hidden between the floors of a house under construction they found some more missing property. Buried in the cellar at the home of one of the boys, in a series of "tunnels" they found more.

A night trip to Revere resulted in the capture of some of the culprits.

GRADDAUGHTER OF T. F. RYAN IS BRIDE

Stockbridge, Aug. 16.—Miss Nina M. Ryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Barry Ryan of New York and a granddaughter of Thomas Fortune Ryan, and Colonel Phillip Acosta Carroll of Baltimore, a New York attorney, were married at St. Joseph's Church today by the Rev. T. P. O'Connor.

The best man was Guy Carey of New York. Miss Ryan's attendants were her sisters, Miss Virginia and Miss Adele Ryan. A wedding dinner at the Summer home of the bride's parents followed.

CHICKEN WARBLERS FINED AS THIEVES

"Every morn I bring her chicken," warbled three young men as they strolled along Harvard street, Cambridge early today. Patrolmen Foley and Kelly noticed the trio, each of whom bore a well-grown and pugnacious hen. A few hours later they were fined $15 each for larceny from some person or persons unknown, and all appealed. They were booked as Morris O'Neil, Sacremento street, Cambridge; William Murphy, River street, Cambridge, and George Sullivan, Cross street, Somerville.

CASHIER IN JAIL; BANK CLOSED

Dayton, Aug. 16.—The American National Bank did not open for business today. It will remain closed until national bank examiners finish their investigation of its financial affairs following the alleged defalcation of Fred W. Hecht, second vice-president and cashier, who is in jail on charges of embezzlement, unable to furnish $50,000 bond.

The affidavit, sworn out by William C. Griswold, national bank examiner, charges a defalcation of $10,000.

It was intimated the peculation may reach $250,000, if not more.

On July 6 the national bank statement, signed by Fred Hecht himself, showed its resources to be $2,261,318.88.

Hecht and his family moved in high social circles, entertained lavishly at their beautiful home and both were the "life of the party."

Mrs. Hecht knew nothing of her husband's plight until informed that he was in jail on an embezzlement charge. At first she refused to believe the statement.

DECLARES ELLIS ISLAND "FOUL"

London, Aug. 16 (AP).—The British government has been justified in making complaints on behalf of many Englishmen against the conditions at Ellis Island, in the opinion of most of the afternoon newspapers, in comment on Ambassador Geddes' report of his visit to the New York immigration station.

The Star says no excuse can suffice for "accommodations in some cases so foul that only a government paper would be allowed to print the details.

"Clean immigrants and dirty ones, gentle and coarse, honest and criminal, are crowded together in circumstances extremely odious to the better kind," says the Star. "These things occur under the shadow of the Statue of Liberty. They are to thousands the first taste of that freedom which is the boast of 'God's own country.' What a pity America's moral lectures to the naughty effete of old Europe have to cross such a dirty doorstep."

COOLIDGE EIGHT HOURS DAILY AT DESK

Washington, Aug. 16.—Members of the Cabinet were notified today by President Coolidge that the state of public business was such it would be unnecessary to hold the regular Friday cabinet meeting this week.

At Tuesday's meeting the Cabinet went over most of the questions pending in the various departments, and White House officials said it was to be presumed no further meeting would be called until the President could study in detail the matters considered in a general way at the last session.

Meantime he will continue to see the members of the Cabinet from time to time individually.

Another factor in the Eecutive's decision against a meeting tomorrow was understood to be his desire to use every bit of available time in familiarizing himself with his new responsibilities, to that end he had been spending eight hours or more daily at his desk in the Executive offices.

Black 2c. Stamps in Memory of Harding

Washington, Aug. 16.—Black two-cent postage stamps will be issued by the Postoffice Department as a token of the nation's mourning and respect for the late President Harding.

Announcement was made by Postmaster-General New following a conference with President Coolidge. The stamps will be similar in size to those in use at present, but will bear a likeness of the late President Harding.

CLUE AT QUINCY TO KIDNAPED CHILD

Eleanor Sherbourne, three years old, kidnaped Sunday night from her mother's home at Old Orchard Beach, Me., is believed to have been located in Quincy through a message broadcast by the Shepard stores, Boston.

Old Orchard police wired a description of the suspects to the Shepard stores, with the request that it be broadcast.

Boston and Quincy police picked up the message by radio. Soon after the radio was picked up, a woman telephoned the Boston police she had seen the automobile described in front of the Jordan Marsh store. A few minutes later, a Quincy woman said the car was seen in Quincy and that the occupants, who answered to the broadcasting description, were inquiring for a suitable lodging for the night.

The telegram from the Old Orchard Beach police chief reads:

"Kidnaped, at 11 o'clock Sunday night, from a cottage at Old Orchard Beach, Me., Eleanor Sherbourne, three years old. Blue eyes, light hair with Dutch cut, round chubby face, unusually attractive, might be disguised as a boy.

"Will talk with anyone. Can tell home address, which is No. 124 Baltimore avenue.

"Was kidnaped by two men, brothers, in a Chevrolet car with District of Columbia number plates 22006, also Maryland and Quebec registration plates."

DIVORCE SUITS FILED BY NINE IN PLYMOUTH

Plymouth, Aug. 16.—Nine persons in Plymouth County have s[illegible]ht relief from m[illegible]l bonds, according to entries on the divorce docket of the local Probate Court.

Joseph Tavares of East Bridgewater charges Maria Tavares of Providence, R. I., with desertion, and asks for the custody of three children. Beatrice A. Cleverly of Hull seeks freedom from Amber J. Cleverly of the same town, for cruel and abusive treatment, prays for custody of two children and asks alimony.

Julia S. Parsons of Brockton charged Robert V. Parsons of Ludlow, Vt., with cruelty and non-support, and petitioned for the custody of two children and alimony. Ellen L. Pratt of Rockland asked for a divorce from Arthur F. Pratt of Brockton, alleging desertion. She asked the custody of five children.

Cruelty and abuse and non-support were named by Veronica Dorrsin of Brockton in her suit against Charles Dorrsin, now of Los Angeles, Calif. Pauline Gauditis of Brockton, seeking a divorce from John Gauditis, also of Brockton, charged cruelty, confirmed intoxication and non-support, asked custody of two children and alimony.

Gross and confirmed habits of intoxication formed the charge of Mildred E. Strassel of Plymouth against Antone J. Strassel of the same place. Henry E. Lucas of Carver charged Cora B. Lucas of Plymouth with desertion. Clementine F. Nickerson of Plymouth charged Charles F. Nickerson of Wareham with cruelty, non-support and intoxication.

ONLY ONE VICTIM IN MINE MISSING

Kemmerer, Wyo., Aug. 16 (I.N.S.).—Bowed with grief, stricken Kemmerer today planned to bury the ninety-nine coal miners whose lives were snuffed out by the terrific explosion in Frontier Mine No. 1, of the Kemmerer Coal Company Tuesday morning.

Latest figures given out by the mine officials showed that 134 workmen entered the slope; of these thirty-five were rescued alive, ninety-eight bodies have been recovered and one man, Thomas Roberts, is still entombed.

Roberts was a victim of fate, having entered the shaft on the fatal day to substitute for his brother. The aged father of "Tommy" Roberts has haunted the mouth of the mine for two days and nights, praying that by some miracle his son's life has been spared. That he is dead, however, is generally conceded.

A general memorial service will be held in the public square Friday.

Saved From Death

McDONALD SISTERS

DROWNING GIRL RESCUED BY SISTER

Twelve-year-old Frances McDonald of No. 16 Kingman road, Somerville, was rescued from drowning twenty-five yards from the shore off City Point, South Boston, by her fifteen-year-old sister, Josephine McDonald, as she was going down for the third time.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Helen McDonald, saw her daughter in danger and although unable to swim, waded into the water fully clothed up above her hips and cried for help.

As she was standing in the water, powerless to aid her daughter, Mrs. McDonald heard a swish, and saw Josephine swimming past her to the aid of her sister.

Josephine grabbed her sister about the head nd started with her for the shore. They were both winded and when a few feet from the shore, William Rooney, son of Police Captain John J. Rooney of the Clyt Point station, who was on the beach with the Charles Flynn, went to the aid of the mother and the two girls and brought them ashore.

1 DEAD IN $15.000 POWDER MILL BLAST

Schaghticoke, N. Y., Aug. 16.—Charles Matterson, an employe of the Hercules Powder Company, was killed today in an explosion which caused $15,000 damage to the Corning mill. Three men who were standing near the wrecked building leaped into the river to escape the burning powder.

BIG SHAKEUP IN SOMERVILLE POLICE

The greatest shakeup in the Somerville police department since Mayor John M. Webster assumed the office almost two years ago went into effect today.

Sergeant James M. Lynch of the liuor suad, who was criticised by the Alderman Harris at a recent meeting as inefficient, was superseded by Sergeant Frank H. Graves. Reserve Officer John J. Smith is assigned to the squad.

Alderman Harris demanded a change in the liquor squad and said that if the wide open conditions were not corrected he would appeal to the federal prohibition officers.

The transfers of patrolmen follow: B. McCabe from East Somerville to the Glasshouse section, in place of J. J. Cummings, assigned to relief duty; L. J. Arnold from the Highlands to East Somerville; J. J. Shay from Central Hill to Glasshouse section, in place of J. Cruise, assigned to the "goose farm"; T. Corkery to East Somerville; C. L. Crossman from Washington street to Highlands; Patrick J. Doolin from the Glasshouse to the "bleachery," in place of C. S. Johnson, who goes to Central Hill; T. Flanagan from Brickbottom to Prospect Hill; J. Holmes, from "Goose farm" to Glasshouse section; C. F. Warner to Prospect Hill; E. Keane and J. L. O'Keefe to relief duty. Sergeant Lynch, it is expected, will be assigned to a clerical position in the office of Chief Kendall.

SHRIEKING MAN KIDNAPED BY 5

Amarillo, Tex., Aug. 16.—Mystery surrounds the kidnaping here of E. T. ("Little Mike") McDonald, who was thrown into an automobile and driven, shrieking for help, into the country.

A woman and a boy, the only eyewitnesses, said five unmasked men abducted McDonald.

Sheriff Whitaker and policemen pursued the automobile for eight miles, but lost the trail in the darkness.

McDonald, forty-seven years old, was a bridge worker for the Fort Worth & Denver Railroad.

HUGE AIR FLEET WILL 'BOMB' BOSTON

New York, Aug. 16 (C.N.S.).—The biggest exhibition of aircraft power seen in the United States since the war will be staged next week, when an air armada will take part in manoeuvres along 800 miles of the Atlantic coast from Hampton, Va., to Bangor, Me.

A feature will be the smoke screens several hundred feet thick to darken Wall Street and its vicinity on Tuesday. The smoke screen will be laid by twenty-one Martin bombers carrying more than fifteen tons of explosives and gases sufficient to drench New York for a week or more with smoke.

Later Boston, Baltimore and other cities will see similar demonstrations to show what would happen were an enemy air squadron to gain command of the air over these cities.

Brigadier-General William Mitchell, assistant chief of the air service, said the manoeuvres will include an air attack off the Virginia capes on two battleships, bombing of land targets and the establishment of air routes and bases. Six De Haviland planes besides the bombers will be used in the tests.

After coming from Hampton to Mitchell Field near Garden City, L. I., the air fleet will "hop off" for Boston, Monday.

With 1,500 pounds of bombs, a crew of six and military luggage and equipment, each plane can climb to 15,000 feet.

"The industrial and commercial heart of the United States," General Mitchell said, "lies, roughly speaking, in the triangular territory marked by Chicago, Boston and Washington. The Atlantic coast line of this triangle is the most vulnerable to attack. The air service can cover this great area in seven hours by day or night. The purpose of flight to Bangor is the demonstration of mobile defence."

$30,000 FIRE SWEEPS MANCHESTER STORE

Manchester, N. H., Aug. 16.—Fire today caused damage estimated at more than $30,000 to the Wonder Clothing Shop, on Elm street. The blaze was discovered by a telephone operator who had noticed many lines were out of order. Looking out a window, she noticed flames leaping from the clothing store and sounded the alarm.

CHARMING GIRL TO ATTEND CARNIVAL

MISS "PEGGY" BLACK

TO APPEAR AT SWIMMING RACES

Miss Margaret L. Black of Dorchester, who won the Boston American's most charming girl tournament in competition with more than 500 young women, has accepted an invitation to attend the Boston American's annual water carnival at Charles River Basin next Saturday afternoon.

It will be her first public appearance since winning the honor of representing Greater Boston at the annual fall pageant in Atlantic City.

"Peggy," as she is known to her intimates, is an unusually good swimmer and expects to obtain keen enjoyment from watching Saturday's races in the Basin. It was while swimming at Nantasket Beach that the snapshot which she entered in the CHARMING GIRL tournament was taken.

At the conclusion of the races Saturday, Miss Black will leave the city for two weeks rest, preparatory to going to Atlantic City. She has had a strenuous time during the past few days shopping in preparation for her wonder trip.

"I can hardly wait for the time to come when I shall start for Atlantic City," said Peggy to a Boston American reporter.

"I just know I'm going to have a wonderful time and mother is just as excited about going as I am. She is going as my companion.

In addition to being an excellent swimmer Miss Black, or "Miss Boston" as she will be known at the Atlantic City pageant, is a capable equestrienne, plays tennis, dances and is a clever musician, playing several instruments well. All in all, she is an exceptionally accomplished young woman.

ITALIAN ARTIST KILLED IN FALL

Florence, Aug. 16.—Giuseppe Pasquini, well known painter, died today of a fractured skull suffered through the sudden collapse of a scaffold while he was at work restoring the frescoes in the Church of the Madonna Dellumi at Pieve, San Stefano. His assistant, Eugenio Pellizzani, was seriously injured.

O'Connell Sworn

Daniel T. O'Connell, was today sworn in as assistant district attorney of Suffolk County, and entered upon his new duties, under direction of District Attorney Thomas C. O'Brien.

POTTER'S FIELD UNKNOWN TO BABE'S DAD

New York, Aug. 16.—The voice of the city, which Charles Wall of Boston had found cold and uncaring, failed yesterday to explain to him the meaning of "Potter's Field," which was destined to receive his baby. He still doesn't know what it is.

Wall, with his wife and two children, John, two years old, and James three months, arrived here a month ago. In the weeks it took him to find work as an automobile cleaner in a garage his few dollars dwindled to nothing.

This week's rent of his flat at No. 545 West Forty-ninth street took the last of his salary and then James, who had become ill, died.

By coincidence a man also named Wall, Lieutenant Michael, of the West Forty-seventh street police station, was presiding at the desk when the father came in, told his trouble and asked for advice.

The Lieutenant told him the medical examiner would provide a death certificate and the baby then could be buried in Potter's Field.

The last words puzzled Wall. "Potter's Field,' he repeated, "what's that?"

"That," said the Lieutenant, "is the place where—no, wait a minute; I'll tell you what."

He reached in his pocket and found $11. He put ten of these on the desk and then called in "the boys" and explained. The $10 grew rapidly to $36, and every patrolman in the station house was represented by a contribution.

The Lieutenant then got busy with the telephone and three neighborhood undertakers soon responded. The story was repeated to them and they were asked which would bury the baby for $36.

Eduard Devlin of No. 408 West 57th street, spoke first.

"I'll bury the child," he said, "but not for $36. I'll bury it for nothing."

"That's just what we want to do," said the other two. But Devlin spoke first.

The police then gave the $36 to Wall for immediate expenses. The funeral was held today with a priest of the Sacred Heart Church officiating. Burial was in Cavalry Cemetery.

"FIGHTING 9TH" VETS GOING TO MICHIGAN

Members of the "Fighting Ninth" Regiment who served in the Spanish War under the late Colonel Lawrence J. Logan, father of Major General Edward L. Logan, will go to Saginaw, Mich., on September 12 to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary with the Duffield Brigade. During the war the Ninth was brigaded with the 33d and 34th Michigan Volunteers.

BOY SAVES TWINS AND BEATSFIRE

West End 9-Year-Old Keeps His Head and Prevents Possible Panic

Sammy Koges of the West End is nine years old and a cool-headed hero.

When fire broke out in his parents' home at No. 17 North Russell street today Sammy displayed excellent judgment. Instead of running out of the house in a panic he calmly grabbed his twin sister and brother, Sarah and Ralph, two and a half years each, and carried them to safety through flame and smoke.

Sammy Koges

Returning, he dashed a dozen or more buckets of water on the flames which had gained headway in the airshaft on the street floor. Sammy thought of the fire alarm box down on the street. He knew that if he quit the scene of action the blaze might spread through the crowded tenement house. So Sammy went on fighting the fire.

His mother, Mrs. Abraham Koges, came in from the butcher shop in time to carry extra pails of water to him and Sammy won.

The blaze sputtered, hissed and was gone. So two dozen or more women and children in upstairs tenements will know for the first time when they read this that Sammy Koges' heroism saved them from serious panic if not injury and pain today.

MARINE HELD FOR COMRADE'S DEATH

Washington, Aug., 16.—Marine corps headquarters here were notified that Francis Leo Roydan was under arrest at Paris Island, S.C., barracks, charged with having killed Private George F. Sellers. Information received here was to the effect that Sellers' death was the outgrowth of a fight. He was shot through the heart, dying instantly.

Sellers, whose home was in Bedford, Ind., enlisted only ten days ago. Roydan, whose home address is not known here, was on probation at the recruit depot as a preliminary to his enlistment in the marine corps. He formerly served as an enlisted man in the army.

FRENCH AIRMAN ONLY TIES YANKEE RECORD

Paris, Aug. 16. (A.P.)—Sadi Lecointe, the French airman, equalled the American record when on August 8 he reached an altitude of 10,518 metres, it was officially stated by the Aero Club of France. It was reported on August 1 that Lecointe had beaten the American record, held by Lieutenant J. Macready of 34,509.5 feet. The official tests, however, showed that Lecointe reached an altitude of only 10,127 metres on August 1, but reached 10,518 metres on August 8 in a second trial. The 10,518 metres works out to 34,505.47 feet, or virtually the same as the record made by Macready on Sept. 28, 1921.

ARREST KIDNAPERS UNDER MARTIAL LAW

Tulsa, Okla., Aug. 16 (A.P.)-Two men, alleged to have been members of the unmasked band that abducted and whipped Nathan Hantman here let Friday night, were arrested by Oklahoma National Gurdsmen today. The arrests are the first tangible result of martial law, invoked here by Governor J. C. Walton because of recent outbreaks of mob violence.

We are breathing carbon monoxide.

We are continuously inhaling poisonous gases that are causing anaemia, blood poisoning, tuberculosis, nausea, headache, nervous disorders, and are steadily disturbing our temper and judgment.

Every single time we walk through the shopping district and sections of the city where automobile traffic is heavy, we are drawing into our respiratory organs carbon monoxide, benzine and related substances—deadly exhaust gases as poisonous as any specifically manufactured for battlefield purposes.

The only remedy with which the onslaught against public health made by the exhaust gases of automobiles, may be stopped, is a vertical exhaust pipe that sends the gas up and beyond the respiratory area behind the car.

These facts are set forth in a report to the American Medical Association and the New York Academy of Medicine, by Yandell Henderson, Ph. D., and Howard W. Haggard, M. D., of New Haven and New York, following a scientific investigation of conditions in large American cities.

SMALL COST IN CHANGE.

The report to the New York Academy of Medicine concludes with an appeal to legislatures and civic bodies throughout the country, to order the change of exhaust pipes from horizontal to vertical.

Only a nominal cost to car-owners is entailed in the change, Doctors Henderson and Haggard point out, and the vertical exhaust pipe would bring as much benefit to motorists as to pedestrians, motorists driving behind slowing cars being included in the poisoned area.

Legally, the proposed plan requires that the State licensing authorities charge an additional fee on all cars that continue to pollute the air by the present form of horizontal exhaust.

GASES ANALYZED.

Doctors Haggard and Anderson, in their investigation, equipped a Ford touring car with batteries of sampling cans and bags and bottles. The latter utensils were employed for gathering instantaneous air samples taken behind cars, trucks and omnibuses, or when traffic was stopped and started at a cross street. Samples were drawn into the vacuum cans for fifteen minutes or as much as three-quarters of an hour at a time, while the car was being driven through the streets at the speed of other traffic. The total collection of air and gas represented the average conditions to which the occupants of cars and pedestrians were exposed during that period.

Analyses of the gases thus obtained, at the Laboratory of Applied Physiology, Yale University, disclosed the fact that startlingly high percentage of carbon monoxide and similar poisonous gases were present.

Largest percentages of carbon monoxide were found in samples taken behind omnibuses and heavy trucks. These vehicles, because of their large engine power and high gasoline consumption, and their frequent stops and starts, do more to contaminate the air than any equal number of vehicles, Dr. Haggard declared.

HANGS IN STREETS.

"From their engine power and gasoline consumption," says Dr. Haggard, "it may be estimated that an omnibus or large truck contaminates each minute, a volume of air equivalent to a space of its width and height and from 100 to 200 yards in length.

"Owing to the direction in which the exhaust is discharged, the gas tends to accumulate and hang in the street in a layer only from five to ten, or at most 15 to 20 feet deep.

"In our observations we found that the gas is distributed in a cone, or horn-shaped space which spreads out so that the head of a man standing a few feet back of a car is surrounded by an atmosphere containing from four to six parts of carbon monoxide.

"When a car is moving at ten miles an hour this cone of gas is elongated so that occupants of a car following at about a distance of thirty feet are surrounded by exhaust gas diluted to a concentration of one or two parts of carbon monoxide."

In sections of the country, including the Pacific Coast and eastern Massachusetts, says Dr. Haggard, adulterations which improve the combustive properties of gasoline are being added, these additions contributing greatly to the already dangerous menace of carbon monoxide. Benzine is found to be much used for this purpose.

APARTMENTS AND HEIRESSES WHO RAISED RENT

Building is Temple Court, Salem, erected by Mrs. Caroline Gove, daughter of the late Lydia Pinkham, of patent medicine millions fame; left inset. Right inset shows her daughter, Lydia Pinkham Gove, the present owner. Rent for the four-room steam heated flat occupied by Mr. and Mrs. McPhee was raised from $38.50 to $43 and they are fighting it in court.

MAN KILLED, 2 TOWNS ROCKED BY POWDER MILL BLASTS

Cohoes, N. Y., Aug. 16 (I.N.S.).—One man was killed and heavy property damage caused in Valley Falls and Schagticoke today by two explosions at the mills of the Hercules Powder Company of Hoosac River, midway between the two towns.

Charles Matthewson, a workman, was instantly killed. Several other employes suffered from shock.

The first explosion came in what is known as the Corning mill. The fire spread rapidly and a few minutes later a freight car, partly filled with powder, standing within a few feet of the mill, ignited. Another terrific blast quickly followed.

Hundreds of windows in homes and business houses in Valley Falls and Schagticoke were broken by the blasts.

$1,900,000 CUT IN 'PHONE COSTS IN CITY OF CHICAGO

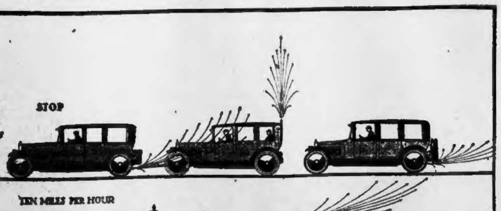
Chicago, Aug. 16.—Telephone rates in Chicago were ordered reduced by approximately $1,900,000 a year effective October 1, 1923, by an order of the Illinois Commerce Commission made public today.

The order was directed against the Illinois Bell Telephone Company and its Chicago division was ordered to make the reductions on two-party and four-party coin box residence service, and single-party and two-party coin box business residence service, which thus reduces the charges to the bulk of telephone users in Chicago.

ADIRONDACKS GET FIRST FROST OF YEAR

Saranac Lake, N. Y., Aug. 16.—The first heavy frost of the season hit the Ddirondacks last night. In some localities the mercury dropped to 30 degrees. Farm and garden crops were severely damaged.

HOW GAS OVERCOMES



Upper line, distribution of exhaust gas from cars standing still with engines running; first and third cars have horizontal exhaust; second car, vertical exhaust. Lower line, distribution of exhaust gas when cars are running at ten miles an hour.

RICH GIRL INSISTS ON EVICTION

Ignores Ruling of State Rent Commission; Court to Decide Saturday

Salem, Aug. 15.—In District Court here, Saturday, it will be decided whether James McPhee, shoe factory employe, and his young wife must quit the cozy four-room steam-heated flat on the first floor of Temple court, a $100,000 apartment house, erected before the Salem fire by Mrs. Aroline Gove, daughter of the late Lydia Pinkham, and heiress to her mother's Vegetable Compound.

Mr. and Mrs. McPhee balk at paying increases in rent.

They have offered the usual $38.50 to Mrs. Gove's agent. It has been refused. The agent wants $43, having raised the rent twice since June 1.

When the McPhees refused to pay more than $38.50, the agent ordered them to vacate, and sued them for the rent.

McPHEES APPEAL.

The McPhees appealed to the Commission on the Necessaries of Life, which recommends that the McPhees be allowed to occupy the apartment at the old rate of $38.50. The Commission, however, has no authority to enforce its recommendation.

Hence Mrs. Gove was summoned to appear in court with her daughter, Lydia Pinkham Gove, present owner of Temple Court, to show cause why the McPhees should be ejected from the rooms which they have occupied for five years at $38.50 the month

Here's the two sides as given to a Boston American reporter:

Mrs. McPhee—"We've been here five years. Mrs. Gove's agent raised our rent from $38.50 the first of July when we asked for a 15-cent rubber plug for the set tubs."

ALL RENTS TO GO UP

Mrs. Gove—"I don't know about the 15-cent plug incident. I have just returned from Europe. I gave my agent, Richard Perley, full power in the matter of Temple Court rents."

Mrs. McPhee—"We were the only tenants raised. They discriminated against us."

Mrs. Gove: "We had decided—my daughter Lydia and I—to increase all rents anyway this summer. We're not getting fair revenue from my investment."

Mrs. McPhee: "Mrs. Gove never wanted any children in the house. Expectant mothers were asked to give six months notice."

Mrs. Gove: "Preposterous! But I built Temple Court for persons well along in life. I made the rents low because I found that Salem before the fire would not take to the apartment house idea. Children have no place in apartment houses. A four-room flat is no place to raise babies. And the other tenants are entitled to peace and quiet. I love babies but they should be out in the open spaces."

CLAIM NO IMPROVEMENTS

Mrs. McPhee: " Not one cent has been expended by Mrs. Gove for repairs since we came here. The ceilings are in terrible shape. The installation of the sink plug is the only improvement made."

THE WAYS OF A HUSBAND—By ANN LISLE

A Splendid Sequel to the Famous Story of Wedded Life, "When a Girl Marries"

"IT isn't!" I cried, wishing his protests and evident discomfort in the role of Uncle didn't make it incumbent on me to encourage him just because he was so sadly ill at ease.

Max Hoadley ran his finger around the collar that tightly encased his short neck and sank down into a still more squat figure as he relaxed in his chair.

"Then if it ain't presuming," he brought out explosively. "I'd like to know what you wanted to borrow ten thousand dollars from Howard Rockhill or anybody else."

"I—needed it," I said.

"You needed it!" Max Hoadley barked hoarsely. "How'd you make out to need ten thousand dollars at eleven o'clock and come handing it back without a word of explanation at two o'clock? That ain't anyways natural at all!"

I was hard put to it for an answer. I hated to hurt the man who had come with such kindly intent. But what was there for me to tell but the truth? Still mured in a manner I hoped would feeling my way cautiously, I murellence him:

"The thing that was worrying me took care of itself. That's all."

"You mean that's all you're going to tell me."

"It's all I can tell," I asserted.

"Well, that is as may be. But if you ever again come to a place where you need ten thousand dollars in a hurry, my advice is apply to an old man who feels like he was your uncle. And when once you get your hands on the money hang on a little longer. Sure everything's all right?"

"Everything's all right," I insisted.

He looked at me appraisingly.

"Nothing more to say?"

"I never had anything to say!" I laughed, recovering my poise as I realized I'd managed to keep the secret which involved Neal so cruelly and had done it without offending Aunt May's husband.

Enjoins Secrecy

"You're certainly close-mouthed," protested Max Hoadley, lumbering to his feet. "I hope you havn't been offended by my good offices. I told young Howard to hold his tongue, and you can rest assured I'll do likewise."

Meaning you won't even tell Aunt May, 'Uncle Max'?" I brought out mischievously.

"There's nothing I keep from her of my free will," he answered gravely. "But I blundered on this, and if you was to tell me it would hurt you to have her know what funny things you get into through that big, kind heart of yours I'd keep it from her—if only to save her worry."

His tone was vaguely suggestive. Without realizing how I was committing myself, I asked:

"Does Aunt May worry about me?"

"A lot, replied Max Hoadley in his hoarse tones. "And she will worry still more if you don't come to us this Sunday, as you've been promising every Sunday for a month. Suzanna says you work too hard. There's a—man in your family, ain't there?"

He brought out the question with a force that amazed me. I felt my cheeks crimsoning. But I managed to laugh out a reply:

"Aunt May knows how I love to work. You know how ambitious I am. I—I have set myself a mark for this year. I'll have to work harder than ever. And I don't expect my friends to interfere."

Deep set little eyes searched my face for a moment. Then my guest rose to depart with a quick:

"No one's going to interfere if you don't work fit—to kill. Say, there's a question I had on my mind ever since I came in. We'd like to invite your young brother out to visit us till he gets over the worst of the shock of his poor little wife's death. How about his coming Sunday and staying?"

I felt my lips mumbling for words. I'd known all along that friends and acquaintances must soon begin asking questions it would be hard to answer.

"He—can't come," I managed, trying to decide how much more I could trust myself to say.

Max Hoadley came back and leaned across my desk. His face was gentle and pitying as he asked:

"Anne, tell me—where's your brother Neal?"

"Neal's gone away—for a rest," I began, lying valiantly, in answer to Max Hoadley's sudden demand that I tell him where my brother was.

My eyes evaded his and traveled about my office in a panic of resentment against the web of lies in which I could fancy myself actually enmeshed.

"All right!" said Max Hoadley, holding his harsh voice down to a tone of the greatest gentleness. "That's two questions I asked. You think I hadn't any business bothering you with 'em. And you ain't seen fit to answer. But I want to say this If there comes a time when you want to answer me—different—why, I ain't going to remember anything—I heard before."

Then he turning awkwardly and ambled toward the door. But I got there ahead of him and held out my hand.

"Uncle Max!" I cried heartily. "You're—good enough for Susanna May. That's the biggest compliment I could pay any man. And if I need a friend ever I'll come to—the two of you. I can't say more just now."

With that he backed out, leaving me to face the immediate facts of my problem.

Hard Thinking

I sat down and revolved my office chair so the open window with its view of grim buildings lay before me. Then, staring at the towering walls, I gave myself over to the hardest thinking I've ever done.

It was the result of this thinking that I brought to Jim when we had finished dinner that evening. Going up to Jim, I linked my arm in his in the most comradely fashion I could compass. Then I said:

"Jim, I've been doing some hard thinking today. Will you come into the living room and go over things with me as carefully as if we were two business partners going into a big deal?"

To Be Continued Tomorrow.

FLOWERS FOR DECORATION

—By Loretta C. Lynch—

A Recognized Authority on All Matters Pertaining to Household Management.

THERE is an old Chinese proverb which says something to the effect that if you have two loaves, sell one and buy a lily.

It is merely putting into words the crying out of the soul for the beautiful. This is present in a more or less degree in every human heart. The housewife bent on making her home a place of beauty should make a free use of flowers. And as summer wanes, begin to either pot plants for use within the home or plan to make or purchase some artificial ones.

Even the dingy kitchen will take on a new interest if its only window boasts a window box of geraniums. And the dining room, with its windows looking out upon great wastes of snow, will be all the moee cheerful for a few window boxes of brilliant orange and yellow nasturtiums.

Great strides have been made in the making of artificial flowers. When shopping, look at the Japanese fibre flowers. Long-stemmed roses perfumed with appropriate odor almost defy detection. Can you imagine anyone so hardened as not to experience a thrill when, stepping from the chill of an autumn day, he beholds a dozen American Beauties cheering the otherwise dull living room?

In many city apartment houses the bedrooms are often dark because of the proximity of the buildings. A few sprigs of apple blossoms—artificial, of course—set into a pretty glass holder on the dresser will do much to banish the darkness.

ANSWER TO WRONG HERE PROBLEM

Never say "pardon my glove" when shaking hands with a woman. The inventor of that phrase was an egoist.

SECRETS OF HEALTH AND SUCCESS

YOUR DIET FOR WARM DAYS

BY CHARLES A. L. REED, M. D.
(Former President of the American Medical Association.)

SHOULD your Summer diet be different from that of Winter?

Dr. Reed.

If so, in what particulars and why?

The best answer to these questions is found in the hints given by Nature.

The peoples of the extreme North, where it is Winter most of the time have one kind of a diet, while the peoples of the South, where it is always Summer, have another kind of diet.

The Eskimos live largely on fat in the form of blubber and marrow and look upon a tallow candle as our children look upon a stick of candy.

In northern Sweden, butter literally piled upon thin slices of what the natives call smorgas bread, is consumed in great quantities, the Summer being largely taken up in packing butter for Winter use.

In all climates fats are consumed relatively to the amount of cold.

At Panama I found the natives living chiefly on bananas, plantains, oranges and other deciduous fruits, also bread from wheat, with cacao and coffee for stimulants, while they consumed much fish and little meat, for which latter, however, they had a great fondness.

The hint Nature here gives is that there is such an adjustment between man and his surroundings that his food demands are best served from sources of supply near at hand.

The explanation that science gives is that it is a question of calories—a calory being a unit of heat—and of the demand of the human system for heat under varying conditions of temperature.

It is clear that the necessities of the body for heat generated within it are greater in Winter when the outside cold takes up or extracts the inside heat, than it is in Summer, when so much of outside heat is furnished from the sun.

This is the natural law. We may not disregard or violate it without in some way paying the penalty. Thus the article of diet richest in calories is butter, for which reason it is the Winter fuel food of the northern Norwegians and Swedes.

For the same reason only little butter fat is required in Summer.

All the meats—especially pork, beef, mutton—are rich heat producers, and are consequently but little needed in Summer.

An additional reason for reducing them to the minimum is the fact that, especially in the Summer, they favor putrefactive changes in the intestines.

White bread, corn bread and oatmeal, corn mush and sugar, have rather high calorie values, are consequently rated as "heating" food and, therefore, may well be taken in reduced quantities during warm weather.

Among the articles of diet having low calorie values and consequently favorable for Summer use are eggs, smoked ham, all fresh fish, milk, fresh vegetables, including potatoes and all ripe fruits.

The observance of these general rules, while adding to the comfort of all healthy persons, is a matter of very great importance to many in advanced life.

How You Can Make Hairs Quickly Disappear Use Delatone

(Helps to Beauty)

Even a stubborn growth of hair will quickly vanish from the face, neck or arms after a single treatment with delatone. To remove hair from arms, neck or face make a stiff paste with a little powdered delatone and water, apply to hairy surface and after about two minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be left free from hair or blemish. To avoid disappointment, be quite certain you get real delatone and mix fresh as wanted.

WHAT THE STARS SAY

LUCKY DAY TO SPECULATE

ACCORDING to the steller mutations, this day may bring forth petty annoyances, which should be taken philosophically, since the more important planetary activities point to benefits and propitious circumstances. Affairs should not be handicapped by indulgence in small disturbances. Quarrels and bickerings should be avoided. Those in employment of others may expect benefits.

It is a lucky day to speculate.

Tomorrow will be unlucky for love affairs, the stars say.

WHO SAID IT AND WHERE

"I am a part of all I have met."

As man goes through life he must participate in events and influence people he meets as Tennyson observes in "Ulysses."

"It is impossible for a man to be cheated by anyone but himself."

At first glance, Emerson's dictum in his essay on "Compensation," seems an exaggeration, yet on closer examination it will be found true in most cases.

"We do not count a man's years until he has nothing else to count."

Emerson, in his essay on "Old Age," disparaged boasting of one's age.

"The heart is a free and letterless thing."

No matter what man's state of bondage may be, his heart is always free. The line is from "The Captive Greek Girl," by Julia Pardoe.

"Cowards mock the patriot's fate."

Is from an Irish patriotic song by Ingram.

VIBRATION PERILS

By GARRETT P. SERVISS

Noted Lecturer and Writer on Topics of Scientific Interest.

"I was present at a lecture in physics where I saw candles put out by striking a note on a piano. The lecturer also made the statement that a cat walking across the Brooklyn Bridge would damage it; also that soldiers had to break step when crossing a bridge or similar structure. Are there guards to see that these rules are enforced?"—AMELIA URKOO, Chicago."

THERE seems to be a shade of irony in your closing question. Did you suspect that the lecturer was romancing? Well, he was, indeed, getting pretty far into the realm of imagination in the statement about the cat and the Brooklyn Bridge; but, then, perhaps he made some qualification which you did not note or have not reported.

There is often a considerable gap between the theoretical and the practical. Shaking the Brooklyn Bridge is quite a different problem for an ordinary cat from that of shaking a mouse, but if the lecturer had said that if a cat as big as four elephants should go leaping, with rhythmical bounds, across the bridge, the latter, if not the former, would suffer damage, he would have kept within the bounds of ordinary practical possibility, while at the same time enlivening his statement with the stimulus of imagination.

It is a fact that soldiers habitually break step in crossing a bridge, but after a little experience in marching across with regularly timed steps they would need no command to break step. They would do it, even if against command, for their own comfort. A little experience with an ordinary swinging foot bridge would quickly convince you of the astonishing power of regularly repeated footfalls to produce vibration.

As to the blowing out of a candle by a pulse of air produced by a loud note struck on a piano, the phenomenon is of a similar nature, since it arises from vibration, but it differs in details. The flame is put out by the passage of the sound wave in the air, somewhat as it may be blown out by a puff of air from the mouth. The sound wave consists of an alternate condensation and rarefaction of the air, and as these pass in quick succession over the flame they alter the conditions of pressure and temperature so much that the flame goes out.

The principle of vibration may be called the key to the active universe. Vibration is everywhere.

Year's Best Selling Novel Reveals Mysterious Return of Youth and Beauty to Old Woman

By Arrangement with Associated First National Pictures, Inc., in Whose Film Version Corinne Griffith Will Appear as Countess Zattiany

"The time came when I knew that youth was returning"

START THIS BEST-SELLER HERE TODAY

A young and beautiful woman creates a sensation at a first night in New York by rising in her seat at the theatre and coolly surveying the audience through her glasses, after the European fashion. Clavering and his friend, Dinwiddie, are immediately interested, and the latter receives a shock, declaring that she is the image of a former society belle, Mary Ogden, though much younger than she should be at that time. He thinks she may be a daughter. Clavering follows Mary home from the theatre and aids her to get into the house as she has lost her key. She invites him in and tells him she is Countess Josef Zattiany. He nearly guesses her secret. He asks her to marry him. Clavering invites her to dinner at Sherry's and the opera. She promises she will tell him her secret the following Saturday.

READ ON. THE THRILLS COME FAST

"IT may relieve your minds to hear that I was at first as indifferent as all of you no doubt would have been. The war—and many other things—had made me profoundly tired of life—something of course that I do not expect you to understand. And now that the war was over and my usefulness at an end, I had nothing to look forward to but the alleviation of poverty by means of my wealth when it was restored, and this could be done by trustees.

Life had seemed to me to consist mainly of repetitions. I had run the gamut. But I began to be interested, at first by the fact that science might be able to accomplish a miracle where centuries of woman's wit had failed."

"Wit!" snorted Mrs. Vane. "Ignoble vanity."

"Well, call it that if you like, but the desire to be young again or to achieve its simulacrum, in both men and women, has something of the dignity which the centuries give to all antiques. However, at the time, you will also be glad to know, I was far more interested in the prospect of reenergizing my worn-out mind and body. I was so mortally tired! And if I had to live on, and no doubt with still much work to do in distracted Europe——"

"But what did they do to you?" cried Mrs. Tracy. "I'd have done it in your place—yes, I would!" she said defiantly as she met the august disgusted eye of Mrs. Vane. "I think Countess Zattiany was quite right. What is science for anyhow?"

"Go on! Go on!" murmured Mrs. Goodrich. She was too fat and comfortable to have any desire to return to youth with its tiresome activities, but all her old romantic affection for Mary Ogden had revived and she was even more interested than curious.

"I am trying to! Well, I must tell you that the explanation of my condition, as of others of my age, was that the endocrines——"

"The what?" The demand was simultaneous.

"The ductless glands."

"Oh," said Mrs Prevost vaguely. "I've seen something——"

"It is all Greek to me," said Mrs Vane, who felt that unreasoning sentiment common to the ill-informed for the major-informed. "You promised to avoid technical terms."

Madame Zattiany explained in the simplest language she could command the meaning and the function of the ductless glands. The more intelligent among them looked gratified, for the painless achievement of fresh knowledge is a pleasant thing. Madame Zattiany went on patiently: "These glands in my case had undergone a natural process of exhaustion. In women the slower functioning of the endocrines is [illegible] the climacteric [illegible] been dependent for stimulation upon certain ovarian cells. The idea [illegible] is that the stimulation of these exhausted cells would cause the other glands to function once more at full strength and a certain [illegible] as a matter of course, unless of course they had withered beyond the power of science.

FOXY GRANDPA STORY

STRANGE INSECT SURPRISE

"MY what beautiful leaves this tree has!" I said one day in Ceylon, as we paused beside a beautiful, low, bushlike tree in the forest through which we were walking. I think I'll just take this leaf home with me and press it in my book of rare flowers and plants."

"Take this leaf," said Bobby, pointing to a particularly beautiful specimen.

I reached out my hand to break the leaf from the branch to which it was attached, when to my amazement, the leaf separated into two beautiful wings and off it flew!

©1923 International Feature Service, Inc.

"Foxy Grandpa," Bobby gasped.

"Bobby, did you see what I saw?" I exclaimed.

His face looked blank as he answered

I certainly did, Foxy Grandpa, and I never was so surprised in all my life. That leaf flew away, didn't it?"

"Bunny, who, of course, was with us, scratched his head, put one paw on his hip, wiggled a whisker and chuckled.

"Sure, it flew off. I was hoping that you would see one of those leaf insects while we were here in Ceylon. Their little trick certainly protects them from enemies, doesn't it? Not one animal in a thousand—let alone a man—would believe that that bug was anything but a green [illegible]

We left that part of [illegible] and of Ceylon and traveled for several months having a wonderful time, during which we often spoke of the strange leaf insect we had seen in the woods. We came back in the autumn to the place where we had seen it because we were going to take a steamship from a nearby port.

This little insect had made such an impression on us that one afternoon when we had nothing else to do, Bobby said:

"Foxy Grandpa, let's go out in the woods and see if we can find another one of those curious bugs."

"All right Bobby, that'll be fine," I declared. "We'll start right away."

But imagine our disappointment when we got to the woods and found that the hot tropical sun had burnt all of the leaves on the trees and that they were withering and ready to fall off.

"I'm afraid we won't see our little, green leaf friend today," I said to Bobby, trying to comfort him because I knew he would be disappointed.

"This is the very tree where we saw him, Foxy Grandpa," said Bobby sadly. "And here where this dead leaf is is where he lived." And Bobby touched the leaf.

What do you think happened? That leaf quivered, spread two beautiful brown, gauzy wings and sailed away!

"Well, what do you think of that?" I exclaimed. "That's the smartest little insect I ever saw. He even changes his costume in the Fall to match the landscape."

LOVE AND MARRIAGE

By ELINOR GLYN

HAVE you ever thought seriously X, about what a very defective sense of values such numbers of people seem to possess. They have no standard by which to measure what they really want. They will throw away what, if you describe it to them in cold blood they would admit was their heart's desire, for the stupidest momentary indulgence. They act in ways which must obviously militate against their aims at accomplishment.

Elinor Glyn

There are two reasons for this. The first one is because to express their own egotism is really stronger than any concrete material or spiritual aim; and the other reason is that they have no real will power, and are, indeed, servants and not masters.

It would be a wise thing to train children early to give definitions of what they really want—and then point out to them all the cross-currents in their own characters which will militate against the want's accomplishment.

They should be taught a sense of values—what is [illegible] and what is not. I am impelled to write this because of what I [illegible] observing about the child [illegible] garden beneath [illegible] the same brat who call[illegible] She is making [illegible] which they cannot [illegible] —they are not [illegible] express their individ[illegible]

HOW TO FORGET TROUBLES

TROUBLES knock up your system like Jack Dempsey knocks down his opponent.

Troubles deal blows both in the head and stomach—and they hurt the stomach more than they do the head!

Troubles give the stomach indigestion, slow up the liver—and then follow constipation and biliousness.

The way to get rid of troubles is to invigorate digestion, stimulate liver and bowels and tone up the entire system. The best way to do this—has been for the past 80 years—is to take Beecham's Pills.

Then you will feel so good that "troubles" become merely problems, to be solved readily by the clear, keen brain of health.

FRIENDS NOTICED IMPROVEMENT

Wonderful Results from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Bethel, Wis.—My female trouble was brought on by overwork. I had worked in stores and had to do heavier work than my strength could stand, and had to be on my feet most of the time. Finally I had to give up this work entirely and stay at home. Doctor's medicine did not give me much relief, and my mother wanted me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took a couple of bottles of it and thought it did not help me as much as it should, so I gave it up to try something else. Nothing I took helped me much, so I finally decided to give the Vegetable Compound another trial and to take enough of it to make sure it would help me. I have taken it over a year now and it has brought wonderful results. I have gained from 93 to 110 pounds and am keeping house now. My friends all notice the change in my health. I will be glad to answer all letters that women write to me about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. W. G. MONSON, 1515 Park Ave., Beloit, Wis.

Red Sox Get Full Game Nearer Athletics

Cleveland, O., Aug. 16—It begins to look as if it is a good thing for the Browns, Tigers, Cleveland, and even the Yankees, that the American League season is drawing to a close.

Had the campaign been ushered in on August 1 instead of mid-April with Bob Quinn, the man behind the gun in the Hub instead of Harry Frazee, it's almost a certainty the Red Sox could have been depended on to make a real fight for the championship honors.

Bobby Quinn

Any team that was as bad as the Sox appeared to be up to the time Quinn took hold of things, and then turned right about face and proceeded to win eight of nine games must be given credit for having a lot of good baseball.

The Red Sox beat Cleveland again, 8 to 6. They stood out like beacon lights in two respects, in that they had a genuine 100 per cent. punch at bat and that Manager Frank Chance wasted no time but sent pinch pitchers into the fray when danger threatened.

And to Chance's credit it must be said each pinch pitcher stopped Speaker's men dead in their tracks, at times when they threatened to break through and overhaul the last placers.

Fullerton went along at a fine clip for six innings, but started to wilt in the seventh. Ferguson was pressed into service. He halted Cleveland with second and third occupied and one out. He struck out Wambsganss, who hit in a pinch for Lutzke, and got Brower on a fly to Reichle.

Fergy went to the bad in the eighth and gave way to Ehmke with one run in, the bases loaded and two out. The elongated one [illegible] things then [illegible] [illegible] gave Reichle an easy [illegible].

FIRPO DRAWS CROWD TO WALL STREET

New York, Aug. 16.—Luis Angel Firpo, challenger for the heavyweight boxing championship and known in the sporting world as the "Wild Bull of the Pampas" was the innocent cause of a mild sensation in Wall street which drew 2,000 or more persons to the doors of J. P. Morgan & Co. and gave employment for two hours to the special squad of policemen on duty in the financial district.

Luis Firpo.

A quarter of an hour after he had passed the Morgan building, a report was spread that he had entered the building to "cash a check," or to "buy some bonds." In less than half an hour the rumor, which proved to be unfounded, had drawn upward of 2,000 persons to the normally busy intersection and automobiles had difficulty getting through the crowd.

Reed didn't show any spectacular battling. He just kept giving everything he had all the time and piled up enough points to win.

George Robinson gave Wolf Larsen quite a pasting in the semi-final. The decision was awarded to Robinson on a foul in the eighth round. Wolf grapped one of Robinson's legs, lifted the negro into the air and hurled him to the canvas.

REFEREE HELD SEVERAL CONSULTATIONS ABOUT IT.

Instead of awarding the decision to Robinson without [illegible] Referee Joe O'Connor held several consultations and finally had it announced that Robinson claimed foul and he had recognized his claim.

We don't see why it was necessary for Robinson to claim foul when every person in the Arena saw Larsen pull his football tactics.

At the time of the illegal work, Robinson had a big lead.

Jack Dillon of Woburn won on a foul from [illegible] Warren of South Boston [illegible] five rounds. Terry McManus of Roxbury stopped Charley Sheppard of New York in four frames. M[illegible] Landers was unable to box on account of the death of his mother.

Our batting average was .666. We picked Robinson and Dillon to win as they did, but missed out on the McCarthy-Reed affair. McCarthy was our choice. It looked as though Pat would parade to victory after the first round. Then came Reed's brilliant come-back which is what makes the dear old fistic game so popular.

A[illegible] in the Cambridge Sunday baseball situation has been taken by the authorities. A[illegible] has been issued by the District Court, which orders Daniel P. Leahy, Cambridge City Councilor, and manager of the North Cambridge Baseball [illegible]

Dan Leahy

[illegible] James M. Kearey [illegible] of Chief of Police John J. M[illegible] The police allege that the [illegible] stipulated that no collections should be taken either directly or indirect.

This stipulation, the police declare, was violated. Near the entrance to the field was a box, above which was a sign telling of the restriction in regard to collections [illegible] asking the fans to deposit their [illegible] in the box.

It is alleged that money was deposited in the box.

For two years Sunday sports have been the cause of agitation in Cambridge, and the financial phase of [illegible] has been investigated [illegible] and State authorities.

OH, MR. GALLAGHER, OH MR. GALLAGHER! DID YOU EVER HAVE THE NIGHTMARE WHEN YOU SLEEP?
EVERY NIGHT IT BOTHERS ME, I AM DRIFTING OUT TO SEA OR FALLING OFF A PRECIPICE SO STEEP.
OH MR SHEAN, OH MR. SHEAN! LAST NIGHT I HAD A NIGHT MARE UNFORSEEN I DREAMED MY WATCH WAS LOST, AND WHILE IN MY SLEEP I TOSSED-WAS YOUR WATCH GONE, MR GALLAGHER?
NO, IT WAS GOING, MR. SHEAN!

DIDN'T STEAL BILL'S STUFF

Manuel Alonzo, the Spanish Davis Cup player who has been touring this country with Bill Tilden, evidently failed to steal any of Bill's stuff, for he fell early and hard in the Newport tournament before Arnold Jones, the Yale youngster.

Radio--The Great Indoor Sport Try and Get 'em

DEMAND A REAL TEST FOR TUBES

The time has come for radio fans to demand a showdown on the vacuum tube situation.

The vacuum tube is to the broadcast listeners what coal is to the [illegible] public; we can get along without them, but not comfortably.

First there was the shortage of standard tubes. Quite a comprehen[illegible] the first months of the [illegible] boom, but [illegible] to the layman when the months lengthened into a year. First the UV [illegible] and 201's, then the new dry cell tubes and then the 21A's.

Confronted by the shortage to take anything that had a glass bulb and a four-prong base, the radio buying public began potting "moonshine" tubes as fast as they found their place on dealers' shelves. Generally they were quite as inefficient as the dealers admitted, and many times they died a quiet death after five minutes of use.

REPAIRED TUBES.

There was also the repaired tube ranging from the kind which was actually repaired to the kind in which a broken filament was set by striking the tube with the f[illegible] lighted. They were as bad a g[illegible]

Finally the UV-200's and [illegible] began to appear, and [illegible] came the dry cell tubes [illegible] the dry cell tubes peeped [illegible] the edge of the counters [illegible] then retired into another pro[illegible] age.

To add to the joy of nations, what dry cell tubes appeared had a tricky base, requiring a new socket or adapter, both expensive.

Today there are tubes enough to go around—but is [illegible]

Or [illegible] the [illegible] situation has been [illegible] stabilized?

The head of a large manufacturing [illegible] recently fitted out an eight-[illegible] super-heterodyne set. He took [illegible] twenty [illegible] UV-201A's before he found [illegible] worked properly. The filament [illegible] in each case, but they were either "dead" or re[illegible] to osc[illegible]

"TESTED" TUBES FAIL.

How many times have you pur[illegible] seen it "tested" with a dry cell by the dealer, and found [illegible] or hopelessly ineffi[illegible] How many sets [illegible] because of [illegible] How often is some other [illegible] blamed for the trouble [illegible] by a poor tube?

A[illegible] not gold tubes that glitter. [illegible] come for dealers to test tubes with something more than [illegible] lighting of the filaments. The only real test for a tube [illegible] in actual recep[illegible] is a big boost ready [illegible] the [illegible] who can say "Every [illegible] sold over my counter has been [illegible] in actual service and found O K."

In fairness to the dealers, it must be stated that we have heard of no [illegible] where one has refused to replace a defective tube. But the ordinary buyer has no facilities for testing the wo[illegible] of the tube he gets and if his set [illegible] to perform he b[illegible] the tu[illegible] only after he has ripped the [illegible] set to pieces in search of the trouble, or consigned the whole busi[illegible] the junk heap.

3,000 COUNTERFEITS A DAY.

The moonsh[illegible] tube, which at [illegible] never [illegible] to pass as anything else, h[illegible] given way to the counterfeit [illegible], which cleverly imitate a pop[illegible] licensed tube, but fail to perform.

The counterfeit UV199's which have appeared will light cheerfully when the dealer "tests" them with a three-volt battery, but it is a snare and a delusion. They will eat up dry cells as fast as you can buy them. There are four factories in New Jersey reported to be turning out 3,000 counterfeit tubes a day.

Realizing the danger of these counterfeits, the manufacturers of the real tubes have issued instructions for testing. They can be tested at home with simple equipment.

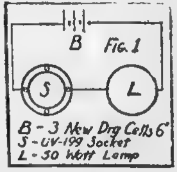
HOW TO TEST.

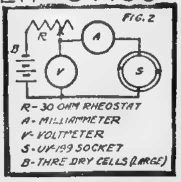
Connect three new six-inch dry cells in series with the tube and an ordinary 50-watt Mazda lamp such as is used for home lighting. The connections are shown in Fig 1. If the filament of the tube tested does not take more than 60 milliamperes it will light up to almost normal temperature in about thirty seconds. If it does not, the tube is drawing excessive current, and is not a genuine UV199.

An even better way of testing is shown in Fig. 2, using a voltmeter and milliammeter. At three volts the current through a genuine UV199 lies between 55 and 64 milliamperes, and the milliammeter should read accordingly. This is a test all dealers should apply to suspected tubes.

With tubes selling at their present prices, no buyer should accept one that has not been thoroughly tested by a careful and conscientious dealer.

HOW TO RECOGNIZE A COUNTERFEIT UV199





Four factories in New Jersey are turning out 3,000 counterfeit vacuum tubes a day. They are so like the genuine that only by these tests can they be recognized. In the case of the UV199's the counterfeit tubes use considerably more than the .06 amperes of the genuine tube.

Mohawk Team on the Warpath

The South Boston Mohawks, one of the snappiest 12-13-year-old baseball teams in Greater Boston are after action on the diamond. To date the little lads have garnered thirteen games and lost but one, and wish to meet any uniformed teams their average.

BRITISH TENNIS STARS WILL MAKE A FIGHT

By THOMAS L. CUMMISKEY.

Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 15.—The invading British women tennis stars may have a hard fight for our national championship laurels. Three of them, Miss Kathleen McKane, Mrs. R. C. Clayton and Mrs. B. Covell, showed their best tennis since coming here a fortnight ago. They took their matches in straight sets in the third round of play.

Mrs. Geraldine R. Beamish, another star of the British quartet, defaulted in the singles play and announced she was slightly ill. Mrs. Beamish has not shown her European standard of play by any means since coming here. Her default placed Miss Helen Hooker in the round before the semi-finals.

Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, defending champion, and Miss Helen Wills of California, who many expect to reach the final round, came through with no trouble, Miss Wills least of all.

The Berkeley schoolgirl marvel simply slaughtered Mrs. Helene Pollak Falk of New York, former national indoor champion, 6-0, 6-1. Molla disposed of Miss Mayme MacDonald of Seattle, national clay court titleholder, 6-3, 6-2.

As a result of the battles, the field is now thinned down to eight survivors, embracing the best in this land and the best in Great Britain. The stars of this country and from across the sea will be pitted against each other today.

The schedule follows:

Mrs. Mallory vs. Mrs. Helen Hooker of Greenwich, Ct.

Miss Bancroft of Boston vs. Mrs. Clayton, England.

Miss Wills vs. Miss McKane, England. Miss Goss vs. Miss Covell, England.

The national doubles championship play, provided an upset, the biggest of all the day, when Miss Ceres Baker and Miss Lillian Scharman of this country put out the famous British pair, Mrs. Clayton and Mrs. Beamish, 2-6, 6-4, 6-2. The Americans out-stroked, out-volleyed and outplayed their opponents, after the first set. The [illegible] and brilliant volleys of Miss Baker stood out, while her partner was [illegible] steady, making few errors, and displaying splendid teamwork.

TENNIS STARS OPEN PLAY AT LONGWOOD

By FRED C. LANE

The tennis stars of France and Australia take their positions on the championship court of the Longwood Cricket Club today all hopeful that their performances will give them the right to meet the American Davis Cup team at Forest Hills the latter part of the month.

Representatives of the same two flags met on the same court this same time last year for the same honors that they seek today. Australia was the victor in that match and appears the favorite again this year.

The players of both teams that entertain Boston's tennis fans this afternoon are all strangers in these parts. Captain Anderson of the Australian team is the only exception to this statement and although he was a member of the Antipodeans last year he did not play.

Today he enters the court the brightest star of the both teams. It is Anderson's game that will prevent the Frenchmen from playing the Americans unless something untoward takes place.

His wide range of experience, both on the courts and in championship matches, gives him an advantage over either of the French players. Anderson like the majority of foreigners that come to play on our courts has his good and bad days.

He is not the type of Bill Johnston or Bill Tilden whose variations of play differ but slightly year in and out. It is on this assumption that the French team has hopes.

Captain Alan H. Muhr, manager of the French trio, predicts a win for René Lacoste, the premier racquet wielder of the French contingent, should he find Anderson off his game.

In many cases his predictions have proved true for he has been a close follower of tennis, especially among the French for many years. Jacques Brugnon, second best of the tri-color flag bearers, is picked as a sure winner over John Hawkes.

The practice sessions of the French team, which have been going on since Sunday, have convinced the large crowds that turn out each afternoon that neither of the French lads is lacking in the technique of the game.

FRENCH PLAYERS WIN NEW SUPPORTERS.

The doubles matches, which are slated for tomorrow, will more than likely find the singles players of today teaming up. The Australian was a heavy favorite early in the week. The remarkable showing made by the French players in their practice sessions has cut the odds down almost to even money.

FAST FIELDS IN SHAWSHEEN TRACK MEET

What promises to be the classiest outdoor meet held in New England this season will be held in Shawsheen Village on Saturday next, August 18th.

Practically every New England champion will be competing there that day in preparation for the New England A. A. U. Championships at Gloucester a week later.

Fred Tootell. Jake Driscoll

The B. A. A. has sent its entire field of representatives, including Earl Dudley, Jake Driscoll, Lloyd Hahn, George Marsters, A. L. Flanders, Gail Robinson, Ray Drugan, John Lawlor, George Dandrow, Fred Tootell, Fiske Brown and Charlie Eastman, winner of the shot-put at the recent International meet between Harvard-Yale vs. Oxford-Cambridge.

With the facilities afforded at Shawsheen Village which have been pronounced by critics as the best equipped athletic plant in America, fast performances and high-class competition are assured.

Busses will leave the Boston Athletic Association Club House on Exeter Street the day of the meet at 12.30 o'clock, and all competitors are invited to be present at that hour. Special preparations have been made to make the track as fast as possible.

Fred Tootell will make a special effort to break the world's record in throwing the 35 lbs. weight.

In the 5-mile run such classy performers as Jimmy Henigan and Bob Dalrymple of the Dorchester Club will measure strides and the entire St. Alphonsus team, which has been cleaning up in the various Summer meets, will also be seen in action.

Ruth Gets Thirtieth Home Run and Leads 'Cy'

By Universal Service.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 16.—Babe Ruth took the lead over Cy Williams of the Phillies in their battle for home runs honors of the season in the major leagues.

The Babe has rapped out his thirtieth homer, one more than Williams has. It came in the Yankees-Browns game with Urban Shocker in the box.

The clout also put Ruth in front of Harry Heilmann of the Tigers, who is laid up with an injury, in the battle for American League batting honors.

Ruth's percentage is now .394; Heilmann's, .393. Ruth trailed by a point until he made the home run.

MIGHT TEACH SIR TOM
Sir Tom Lipton will do well to get some pointers from his fellow-countrymen who handled the British six-meter yachts in the recent International competition. Winning four races of the five and scoring 107 points to the Yankees' 74 is the record they made.

A NEW "BO" McMILLAN
"Bo" McMillan's name is not to fade from the sport pages for a year or two at least, for in the West Virginia football squad this Fall will be a McMillan who boasts the same nickname, and according to Coach Cutie Spears "Bo" is "the goods."

LIGHT HARNESS HORSES WILL RACE AT COMBINATION PARK

MEETING OPENS AT MEDFORD

By GUS DALY.

The meeting of the trotters and pacers which opens at Combination Park, Medford, today and runs through Saturday will give the patrons of this sport the last scheduled meeting of the light harness racers on a half mile track near Greater Boston for the season of 1923.

The fair season will soon be in full sway, and the horses will scatter to these new fields where the picking will not be so hard. The Bay State Circuit closes at the Marshfield next week, and it seems likely that the session at Combination Park this week will be in keeping with the high standard displayed at every week of the past nine of the Bay State's most successful season since its inception.

This year has been one of record-breaking crowds and a few new records for the equine family

BOSTON-OWNED HORSES HAVE WON HONORS.

It is, of course, pleasing to know that a majority of the stand out performances of this season have been chalked down to the credit of horses which can be considered Boston-owned. Commodore Wilson, the champion two year-old trotter of the circuit, is a Hub entrant and created a world's record at Northampton for a two-year-old trotter for two heats.

Colonel Bidwell raced the fastest mile ever negotiated at Norwich last week, pacing the mile in 2:09 flat

Shirley Marston's fine trotter, The Ultimate, has won his last five starts and has also established a couple of new marks at the gait.

John Farnham's Ashland Dewey pared to a splendid win at the Worcester meet and Rex McKenney, Sam Hastings' old pupil, has shown some high class speed.

C. C. Pendergast's Anokia, the high class pacing mare, has won eight straight and has lost but three heats this season. All of the above mentioned will be seen in action during the three days of the sport this week

It is reasonable to predict that they will have their troubles in winning, for about every horse at the course is in fine fettle, with plenty of racing in their system after the fine weather conditions which have ensued throughout the racing season.

PROMINENT DRIVERS TO BATTLE FOR GLORY.

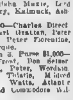
About all of the prominent drivers of the half mile tracks will take a crack at the sport, among them being Billy Crozier, Harry Brusie, A. Rodney, Art Martin, Joe Johnson, Dave Warman, Doc Bradley, H. Small, Jimmy Small, John Cokely, J. J. O'Toole, A. Kline and "Billy" Fleming, the latter being the leading money winner of the Bay State Circuit to date this season, and the likely ultimate winner with the aid of the good races he has to draw from Today's program follows

2.19 Trot, Purse $1,000—Pelham's Express, Mazna Lee, Harkness E., Kingsley Todd Scamp, Spratt Kitty Belwin Josephine Sharpe, Jack De Saulles, Dewey the Great, Victory Loan, Rochelle Maid, Julia C., Carletto, Beckett, Elisha Mazie, Lord of the Nursery, Plain Mary, Kalmuck, Ashten, Peter Whitlock

2.15 Pace, Purse $1,000—Charles Direct Sparkle, Phil O'Neill, Earl Gratten, Peter Griffin, Ashland Dewey Peter Florentine, The Peter Pan, Miss Marque.

Two-Year-Old Trot, 2 in 3, Purse $1,000—Walter Hermit, Jack Frost, Don Belser Hale Frisco, Maplehurst, Peter, Wordsin, Gleaming Silk, Peter Tistate, Mildred Forbes, Chooze, Gussie Watts, Atlantic Fleet, Nowadry Lass and Commodore Wilson.

BUKER TRAINS FOR BIG GAMES



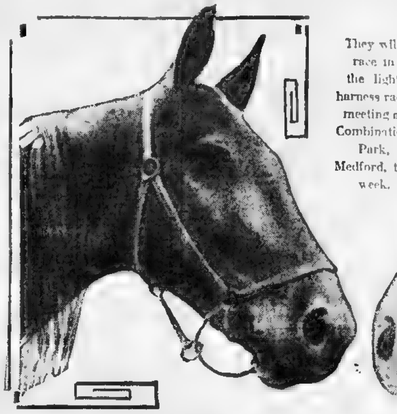
Ray Buker

Buker is a member of the famous world's record breaking Illinois Athletic Club relay team, which includes also Joie Ray and Ray Watson According to word from the West, Buker and his team mates are training hard for the games of the Wilco Athletic Association which will be staged at the Yankee Stadium on September 8, and in which they will try to establish another record.

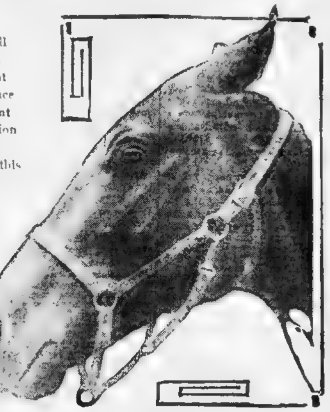
Royal A. C. Bills Show

The Royal A. C. of Medford will hold a big amateur show at the Fulton Street field August 30. Four classes, at 112, 118, 126 and 147 pounds, are on the card. Entries can be made to M. J. Sullivan, 112 Riverside avenue, Medford.

Big Money Winners on Bay State Tracks



They will race in the light harness race meeting at Combination Park, Medford, this week.



COL. BIDWELL

Colonel Bidwell has been a six-times winner this season. He equaled two track records and paced a mile in 2:09 at Norwich, Ct., last week. It was the fastest ever negotiated there. He is owned by a Boston syndicate. Joe Johnson is his driver.

ANOKIA

Anokia has won eight straight races on the Bay State Short Ship Circuit. He lost only three heats. He is owned by C. C. Pendergast of this city. Joe Johnson drives him

NEE IS LIKELY TO HAND JOLT TO FRIEDMAN

"There's many a slip between a coming battle and a proposed one," declares Freddie Wiederholt, manager of Tommy Nee of South Boston, "and I'd advise matchmaker Joe Goode to withhold any arrangements for a battle between Able Friedman and champion Joe Lynch until such a time as he knows the result of Tommy Nee's battle with Friedman

"Friedman isn't by any means invincible which fact I know very well. He has been beaten before and can be again, and just because Nee is a youngster who hasn't been basking in the big lights before this time doesn't mean that he isn't capable of staying up where he has got.

"It won't be any surprise at all, regardless of what some may think, if Nee defeats Friedman. Tommy almost is good enough to knock out the New England bantam champion although I'm not going to predict he will do so as Able is a pretty smart fighter. However, I want it understood that I am in the market for the next battle a little fellow has locally with a champion. And Nee will prove next Monday night that he is eligible for such consideration."

Wiederhol needn't worry much about the Lynch bout for it is hardly likely the bantam champion of the world will come here. A couple of years ago Lynch came to Boston, met Terry Martin and was on the wrong end of the decision when it was all over. It was a very questionable award and Lynch was very much peeved. So he piquantly turns up his nose when Boston is mentioned now.

Leonard and Dundee to Draw Record Fistic Crowd

New York, Aug. 15.—James Joy Johnston, matchmaker of the Cromwell A. C., which holds forth at the Yankee Stadium, puts himself on record as stating that the attendance at the coming battle between Leonard and Dundee will surpass the crowd at the Leonard-Tendler affair. "Leonard is a Jewish boy and Dundee is an Italian," remarks James Joy, "so draw your own conclusions."

James also says that Dundee will furnish a surprise. "I don't say he will topple over Benjamin," he added, "but I can be put down in printers' ink as remarking that Dundee will be a startling surprise." And there you are.

Boston Light Swimmer Pokes Fun at Rivals

Swimmers keep right on kicking, in the water and out. Would almost seem as if the recent Boston Light event had only started. Like Tennyson's brook, it apparently will go on for ever. The latest natator to burst forth with a screech is James J. Twohig of South Boston, who was derricked out of the waves somewhere off Long Island head.

James has his own ideas of a race, and doesn't mind expressing them. He isn't exactly inclined to boost his rivals, either.

He's wiling to accept challenges, and everything. Next thing we know, the swimmers will be fighting duels, with water wings at three plunges, or something.

Following is Mr. Twohig's opinion of the now famous title swim:

Permit me as one of the contestants in the Boston Light swim of Sunday, August 12, 1923, to make a few brief statements regarding the outcome

In the first place I claim it should be called no contest and should be raced over again. No one having reached the goal, which was Boston Light, then no one is entitled to [illegible] up. If the committee claims that Bray won then who is second, third and fourth and why? Many swimmers almost swam the English Channel, but no one got the prize until Henry Sullivan finished it

I am not claiming what I might have done if the conditions were favorable, but I want to say that starting in second last position I passed every swimmer in the contest and reached Long Island Head in the fastest time, three hours and fifty minutes and will be glad to start all over if the race is put on again

All this newspaper talk about winning and about old age beating youth is the "bunk." With all due respect for the age of some of the contestants they looked to me like a lot of disabled hulks floundering hopelessly around the harbor not knowing where they were or why

I shall be happy to accept the challenge of Mr. Patterson provided the race is for the trophy and under the auspices of the N. E. A. A. U.

Seminoles Want Games

The Seminole Baseball Club of Dorchester would like to arrange a game away from home for Sunday with teams giving reasonable guarantees. St. Williams of Dorchester; Gloucester A. A., Winchester American Legion preferred. Call or write A. Kelley, No. 41 East Cottage street, Dorchester 25. Telephone Roxbury 4562 J between 6 p. m. and 8 p. m.

NEPONSET TEAM AFTER OLD RIVALS

The following letter explains itself.

Joseph Kodad.

Manager Joseph Kodad of the Neponset Town Team wishes to call to the attention of the Dorchester fans the fact that he has thrice challenged the Dorchester Town Team to a three-game series without result.

Manager Kendricks sidestepped the last challenge by declaring that the winner of the Dorchester T. T. vs. Dorchester B. B. C. would play the Neponset team. The Neponset fans wish to know why Kendricks considers his team more worthy than Manager Kodad's boys.

The Neponset T. T. is composed entirely of local boys, not one outsider being included on its roster. Only two of its men have even high high school experience. The others learned the game on the local sand lots. Yet they have beaten such teams as Watertown A. A., Somerville Civics, Malden Twi Team and the Revere Athletics, conquerors of the Cornets and St. Andrew's.

With this record to back them up the Neponset T. T. for the fourth time challenges the Dorchester Town Team.

SMITH GIVES AURA LEE ONLY TWO HITS

The Concord Junction Tigers won from the Aura Lees of Cambridge, to 2, in a closely contested eight-inning twilight game at Concord Centre. Leonard Smith allowed only two hits, and fanned 14 batsmen. He shone at bat, with two hits out of three.

VERKEYN RIDES WITH PARTNER TO VICTORY

Charley Verkeyn and Charley Krupkap won the [illegible] paced race at the Revere track. It was a 40-mile contest. The time was 54 minutes, 27 3-5 seconds. Carman and Canay finished second and Corry and Keenan third. The race was a procession from the nineteenth mile, when Verkeyn and Krupkap went into the lead.

The other races resulted as follows

Half-mile handicap, amateur—Won by Joe Segimack, second A. J. Robertson, third [illegible] Laura, fourth Walter Sampson, fifth Jon Logan. Time—50 4-5s.

One-mile handicap professional—Won by William Cupit, second, Tim Sullivan, third Hardy Jackson, fourth, J. B. Rollins, fifth Leo Maggeli, sixth, John [illegible]. Time—30 4-5s.

Champions at Squash Ball

By COACH JOE QUINN

For the second time in as many years the boys of the Robert Swan Playgrounds have won the squash ball championship and my young pals deserve all the credit in the world for their great work in winning over 30 other teams who were represented in the two day tournament at Franklin Field.

The brilliant batting of Captain George Scolpenete and the superb fielding of Hessian and Stenhouse were the main factors in the success of the team although all the boys have worked their hardest to put the Robert Swan team at the top again.

Much credit also is due Miss Mary C. Cadigan for her untiring efforts in behalf of the team.

STAR AMATEUR RING MEN IN ARENA SHOW

Without question the amateur boxing show to be held at the Boston Arena on Friday evening, August 24 under the auspices of the Hopkinton A. A., will be one of the best contests of amateur mitt wielders staged in the Hub this season.

Great interest [illegible] by the boxers in the various classes to be contested and already the management has received the entries of many of the most prominent amateur boxers in New England.

The management of the Hopkinton A. A. is offering the best prizes in the form of a diamond ring for first and a diamond stickpin in each class for second that have been given at any amateur show held in Boston or vicinity for many months.

The classes to be contested at the initial appearance of the Hopkinton A. A. in the boxing game are [illegible] pounds, 118 pounds, 128 pounds, [illegible] pounds, 147 pounds and heavyweight class and the lovers of amateur boxing are assured of an evening's entertainment that has not been on the program for some time. Practically every New England champion and runner-up of last Spring will be seen in action in the Arena ring the 24th.

Among some of the entries already received in the various classes are some exceptionally fast "little fellows"—the boys who always give action every second they are in the ring—Sam Williams of Roxbury, Johnny Vacca of Newton, Frank McDonald of Newton and Anthony Carbone of Cambridge.

A very noticeable fact among the entries received to date is the appearance of many new boys which means plenty of action in amateur boxing shows in the future

ANDOVER CAMP MEN BEATEN BY PACIFICS

Lawrence, Aug. 16—The Andover Camp Counselors were defeated by the Pacific Mills team, 9 to 7, after the Andover men had taken a 6 to 3 lead in the second inning when they knocked Pitcher Arnold, of the Pacifics, from the mound. Crossland, for the Pacifics, struck out nine in five innings. It was not until the sixth inning that the Mills team went into the lead when a pass, a hit by pitcher, a double and a double steal brought in the tie-breaking runs

Will Play on Friday

Manager Terence McIlrath of the Asparagus League baseball team of Concord has arranged a game with the Old Timers' nine of Concord, for Friday, on the Concord Centre playground.

BRAVES START A DRIVE FOR PLAYERS

By NICK FLATLEY

The purchase of Bob Emmerich, from Worcester, with orders to have him report immediately, undoubtedly means that the Braves have started their drive to get new players and young ones, and really build up. The club has been going along for years with veterans who should have come through but seldom did, and the dire results of the present campaign have definitely decided the need of a complete change.

Stuffy McInnis

On all the clubs that come to Boston we see [illegible] developing young players in the game. A manager [illegible] ete has the making[illegible] If he a most ready to step into [illegible] he can be advanced most rapidly by getting in there, and g[illegible]

If he has a lot of rough spots they can only be filed off by a dose of major league experience. The clubs that are up there year in and year out follow out that policy. The chronic tailenders do not.

* * *

The Cubs, in our midst just now, offer a fine example of what we mean. That club is young, mostly, and fast, and will undoubtedly be up on the roof before many seasons roll by. It is a coming club, while the other first division outfits are approaching the slide back period. The Giants, Reds and Pirates have too many veterans to remain in the attic positions, without a lot of refurbishing. The Chicago troupe is all ready to advance.

* * *

Most of the young heroes have been put through a tough school, but it has done them a lot of good.

Bill Killefer

Statz, out in centre field, a star now, was passed [illegible] ago by [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] Bernie [illegible] has been made [illegible] to a mighty good and useful athlete.

Young Grantham, on second, isn't the most finished player in the world. He's only a kid, though, and he has been in practically every game this season. By the time another campaign starts, he'll be a real regular.

Catcher O'Farrell was disappointing in prospect for several years, but the exigencies of the game kept him at it, until now he is rated one of the most valuable backstops in the business.

In Chicago, the club spends money and is willing to gamble

In Boston, taking chances has been out of the question.

Yet the gambling pays. After several lean years, the Cubs are drawing bigger crowds than ever. They had a fine season in '22, but already have passed the attendance figures this year. With the team threatening to get into second place, the turnstiles in the breezy village will be turning right down to the [illegible]

Fans appreciate efforts to build, and are willing to give youngsters all the encouragement in the world. Boston fans, especially. But they don't like makeshift teams chased out in the vain hope that miracles will happen.

Betty Alden Tells of Society's Bright Yellow Costumes at Newport

MRS. WILLIAM TUDOR GARDINER

Mrs. Gardiner (Margaret Thomas), is spending the remainder of the season in Maine with Mr. Gardiner and their children.

By BETTY ALDEN

THIS season it's yellow.

Every Summer Dame Fashion [illegible] her brow, puckers her [illegible] a particular shade [illegible] the vogue.

When the tennis tournament [illegible] Casino the other day, many golden-hued gowns were [illegible]. One matron wore a [illegible] creation of bright yellow, [illegible] black hat with yellow [illegible] completing the costume.

[illegible] of Newport, I hear that Miss Honora Mason, the attractive young niece of the Joseph Grafton Minots, is spending [illegible] Newport with her aunt, Mrs. [illegible] Van Rensselaer ([illegible] Mason), who is at the [illegible] cottage. The other evening Mrs. Van Rensselaer gave a [illegible] in honor of Miss Mason at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O'Day Gaill Jennings. [illegible] young people were there, including several of the visiting [illegible].

Miss Mason, who's an orphan [illegible] makes her home with the Minots, will doubtless be one of the most widely feted buds of the coming season, when she is scheduled for her first appearance on the social stage. For [illegible] are a host of notable family connections. Which reminds me that for the past few years the Joseph Grafton Minots have deserted Boston making their home at Santa Barbara, California. This Summer, however, the family have taken the Francis I. Amory estate at Beverly Cove, where they have already given a number of jolly parties in honor of Miss Mason. This Winter, too, they are [illegible] on in the [illegible].

PARIS BEAUTIES MOB VALENTINO

Paris, Aug 16.—Rodolph Valentino, accompanied by his wife and three secretaries who [illegible] required to answer correspondence estimated at 1,500 letters [illegible] and growing, arrived at Le Bourget [illegible] from England four hours [illegible].

But that [illegible] tremendous reception [illegible] newspaper and American [illegible] scores of Parisian beauties [illegible] taken the trip to see whether the moving picture star would [illegible] to his reputation as a [illegible] and to defend the [illegible] as heart breakers.

FANNY BRICE HAS HER NOSE MADE OVER

Atlantic City, Aug 16.—Dr. Harry Schireson had uncurved the last hump and put it away—stowing it in some mysterious and unapproachable corner—when Fanny Brice allowed her wet eyelashes to flutter and permitted spectators to inspect her face.

She sat [illegible] perky on the operating table in the office of Dr. Edward Porteous, house physician of the Ritz-Carlton Hotel. She wagged her head at the mirror, held by Miss Anne Hess, assistant nurse, and [illegible] opinion.

"The same nose, yet not the same, eh? Sort of sequel to the story for [illegible] but not wholly unfamiliar."

The company assembled gave assent, but the inquiring "Rose of Washington Square" sought no [illegible]. She flung out her arms and gazed at the chandelier and asked "Am I not beautiful?" This in her best Ethel Barrymore voice.

Then in the inimitable Fanny Brice voice, with its little plaintive twist: "Am I not gorgeous?"

True, Dr. Schireson, who came [illegible] from Chicago for the express purpose, has given Fanny a small straight nose with a little tilt at the end, as she explained during the process, "so as to allow for stretching, like [illegible] goods on the [illegible]."

The operation—Fanny said she would feel better if they called it alteration—spread over forty minutes. Half of this time was used in administering the last rites to those doomed humps. The doctors called [illegible] local anesthesia. Fanny called it [illegible].

PLAN BIG REVIVAL AT TREMONT TEMPLE

A big religious revival will start at Tremont Temple, beginning September 9 and lasting four days. The Rev. J. C. MR. GALLAGHER and MR. SHEAN

THE Boston American awards each week an original Gallagher & Shean drawing to the reader who sends in the best Gallagher & Shean lyric.

One is selected for publication in this column every day, and on Saturday the selection of the best one is made and a drawing is mailed the winner.

Today's selection is one of the six from which the winner will be selected this week. It is by John Peck, No. 85½ Boston street, Somerville, Mass.

Oh, Mr. Gallagher, Oh, Mr. Gallagher!
Do you think that Boston has a team?
Do you think they'll win a place,
Where the Yankees set the pace,
Or the Giants hang about, all so serene?
Oh, Mr Shean, Oh, Mr. Shean,
To the parks I went to see what could be seen.
Though they have no Ruths or Tys,
I still think they'll win a prize.
What, the pennant, Mr. Gallagher?
No, the booby, Mr. Shean!

Try your hand at it. Address your lyrics to Gallagher & Shean, care of the Boston American, No. 80 Summer street, Boston, Mass

Medbury Says—

By John P. Medbury

TOURING is becoming more popular all the time, but there are so many road maps on the market that by the time you study them all you don't have time to go anywhere.

SOME motorists wouldnt make a ten-mile trip without taking seven or eight maps along.

ONE woman went into a motor club and said, "I want a good road map, but be sure and give me one with the least detours on it."

SHE was going from New York City to Brooklyn and asked the clerk how many maps she'd need.

HE said "Two. One for going and the other one for coming back."

IF she'd been touring from New York to California she'd have needed a trailer to carry them all.

YOU don't need a whole flock of maps, you can lose your way just by studying one.

TOURING is a pleasure with Rand-McNally folders. No mountains ever look steep on paper.

ONE woman ran a ruler up and down the map and then went out and measured her car.

SHE said to her husband, "It shows one detour here, but it isn't as long as our machine."

THEN she ran her fingers over the map and said, "We're going to have a fine trip, the roads seem very smooth."

ONE of the maps happened to be torn and she thought that it meant they were tearing up the roads.

TOURING is a pleasure but the hardest part of the trip is folding up the map again and getting it in the right creases.

OUR highway engineers are working day and night and it won't be long before they'll have maps on the market which will be just as hard to read as time tables.

IN another year the publishers can sell them for funny papers.

ALL that some of them need now is cartoons.

ONE guy from New York was trying to find the way to Mattewan. After studying a map for three days he got there.

AND it didn't cost him a dime to make the journey. The trip was on the State.

THE average motorist will spend four or five dollars for road maps and then stop every mile or so and ask how to get where he's going.

BUT one man made a trip from Buffalo to Los Angeles and never had a bit of trouble. He lost all his maps before he started.

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN HOME WORK?

Do you think you show proper interest in your home, Mr. Husband, when you hire a man or boy to do most of the work you could do as well as not about the premises?

Any wife likes to feel that her husband has interest enough in home affairs to take care of his own share.

Perhaps you do have to hustle in your shop or office.

Perhaps you feel that when you leave your place of employment that you ought to be done for the day.

Often you argue that your office work should be followed by your favorite little game or recreation, denying in your own mind that "home work" should have any claim on your time.

You may be able to hire the work done, but does it show the right spirit to shift home duties till you seem to come in and go out like a boarder?

Do you set a good example for your wife and children when you shirk the home duties?

Your own attitude is largely responsible for the pet aversions for home work exhibited by your children.

BELIEVE IT?

On June 31, 1923, a Boston bookkeeper refused the boss' invitation to spend the afternoon at a bathing beach because he was afraid of sharks.

On November 31, 1922, a Syracuse minister told the congregation that the sermon would be omitted because he had to get home in time to help his wife freeze the ice cream for dinner.

New York Stock Market Shows Fresh Strength Extending Over Wide List

FINANCE AND TRADE

By FRANK H. MELOON.
Financial Editor.

Add to the list of New England mills unlikely to close their doors and go South, the King Philip, whose plant is situated at Fall River. The King Philip's 25 per cent. cash dividend was declared even while some of us were reading the announcement that our cotton mills were "doomed" as the trend was inevitably toward the South and for other reasons which appeal to me as equally unconvincing.

The King Philips were incorporated in Massachusetts in 1871. The company manufactures fine cotton goods, sateens, muslins, etc. Its equipment consists of 134,000 spindles and 3112 looms.

King Philip's capital stock is $250,000, increased in 1920 by the payment of a 50 per cent. stock dividend. A special dividend of 50 per cent. in Liberty Bonds was also handed out in 1920.

Recent cash dividends have been as follows: 1917, 12 per cent.; 1918, 16 per cent.; 1919, 13 per cent.; 1920, 23 per cent.; 1921, 6½ per cent.; 1922, 31 per cent.; 1923, 4½ per cent. to July.

* * *

Attention was called to the possibilities of the King Philip Mills in the Boston American's "Replies to Investors" on June 30. It is typical among the high-grade mills of New England.

It is extremely probable that there will be little new mill building in this section of the country until the mill men have determined a bit more clearly what lies ahead in the business world.

Capital is notoriously conservative, and capital in New England is no exception to the rule.

A good many of the big New York stock houses maintain special branches in the New England States during the Summer. One which is a member of the New York Stock Exchange, the New York Cotton Exchange, the New York Coffee & Sugar Exchange and the Board of Trade, has four Summer branch offices in Connecticut and Rhode Island alone.

For the year's second quarter both the Boston & Maine and the New Haven were handling a much larger volume of traffic than a year ago, gross earnings of New Haven for the June quarter exceeding like period last year by $5,161,562, or 17 per cent., while Boston & Maine's gross increased $5,835,444, or 20 per cent.

New Haven and Boston & Maine are now running about neck and neck with respect to working capital. New Haven June 30 showed current assets of $27,812,576 against current liabilities of $22,257,670, an excess of $5,554,896. This is an improvement over the situation at end of first quarter when excess of current assets over current liabilities was $3,510,671, and also a betterment over working capital position on December 31 last.

Boston & Maine on June 30 had current assets of $22,119,805 against current liabilities of $16,632,280, excess of $5,437,525. This is less, however, than working capital at end of either March quarter or December quarter, when excess of current assets over current liabilities was largest in a long period.

GOOD ADVANCES MADE BY CHAIN STORES

Fresh strength was shown, extending over a broad list, on the New York Stock Exchange, with money ruling at 4½ per cent.

Good advances were made by chain stores. Woolworth was pushed up to a new 1923 top, rising over 8 points. Kresge was up about 5 in last hour trading. Stories of a forthcoming split-up produced the rise in Woolworth.

National Biscuit reached a record high at 45¼ on rumors of an increase of $1 in the present $3 annual dividend rate. National Biscuit's present earnings justify a $4 payment, but this would be equivalent to $15 a share on the old stock and that company's usual conservatism is thought to stand in the way of such action at this time.

At the day's best there were gains of around 2 or more points for American Can, General Electric, Sears-Roebuck, Vanadium, Chandler, Delaware & Hudson, Corn Products, Gulf States Steel, New Haven, Lima Locomotive, Cuyamel Fruit, Hudson Motor, Reis & Co., Pan-American "A" and Stewart-Warner Speedometer.

With transactions for the first three hours of business exceeding 450,000 shares, on a rising market, bullish sentiment became more general and shorts worried.

Rapidity of the advance in many quarters indicated that the floating supply of stocks was scarce. Commission houses also reported increased public participation.

Buying embraced all representative groups except the low-priced oils which continued to lose ground as a result of the recent cuts in gasoline prices.

Rails took on a new lease of life and advanced with industrials, gains of a point or so being quite common among the active shares.

Price Tendency Is Up in Big Bond Market

Bond prices showed a higher tendency in New York. Most of the activity was in the railroad group.

Advances of a point each were recorded by Minneapolis & St. Louis refunding 4s, St. Paul 4s. of 1925 and the Convertible 4½s, and 5s. Havana Electric Railway 5s. advanced 1¼.

United States government bonds held relatively steady.

Belgian 7½s improved 1 and a number of the French issues moved up fractionally.

Industrial liens were inclined to be reactionary, United States Smelting 6s declining 2¼ points and American Writing Paper 6s. 1½.

COPPER IS WEAK IN METAL MARKET

New York metal prices: Copper weak. All positions offered, 13¼. Lead easy. Spot and August, 6½ bid; September and October, 6.50 to 6.75. Spelter firm. Spot, August and September, 6.30 to 6.42½; October, offered, 6.45.

Foreign Trade

July imports of merchandise are valued at $284,000,000, against $251,771,881 in July, 1922. Exports were $310,000,000, against $301,157,335 in July, 1922.

Wall St. Gossip

STEEL employers generally report an improved labor supply.

AFTER a good business during first six months of year, Fairbanks, Morse & Co. reports a general recession during July.

THAT conditions in cotton manufacturing industry are on the verge of substantial improvement is the opinion of one of the leading men of the trade.

CALIFORNIA Petroleum for half year ended June 30, 1923 reports surplus equal after preferred dividend to $22.77 a share on common, against $6.41 a share in same period 1922.

TEXAS Gulf Sulphur in first seven months of year paid $1,[illegible] in dividends and added $1,000,000 to surplus.

THERE were 21 new wells started in California in week ended August 11, against 24 in previous week.

ANNOUNCEMENT United States steel was operating 90 per cent. and independents 80 per cent. bears out contention steel will benefit in long run through acceptance of future business on non-premium basis.

STEEL independents made more money on their capitalization in first half-year because they catered to premium business.

IT is estimated Lima will earn close to $20 a share this year. Its plants are operating full and orders on the books assure activity well into next year.

WOOLWORTH'S is to add to its chain in London the world's largest "5 and 10."

STRENGTH in Biscuit was accompanied by stories of increase in the dividend from $3 to $4, but in conservative quarters this is branded as premature.

IN CONNECTION with rise in du Pont de Nemours, rumors were circulated that a new pool had been formed to operate in the shares.

VIGOROUS upbidding of U. S. Rubber shares had all earmarks of a running in of shorts, who existed in unusually large numbers.

RAILROADS UP IN BOSTON TRADING

Carriers were strong features in trading on the Boston Stock Exchange. New Haven rose around 2 points to a new high on the move, apparently reflecting satisfaction in the directors' statement of position on railroad mergers. Boston & Albany was up a point at 147.

In the last-hour transactions Allouez was off a point at 15½. General Electric was up around 4 points.

One of the reasons for the strength of General Electric was the optimistic statement of Chairman Young on his return from Europe. His assertion that there is more actual work being done in Europe on electrification of railroads than in this country surprised many who have been under the impression that General Electric's record business was a result entirely of development within the United States.

New England Telephone rose 1½ at 115. Hood Rubber was up a point at 56.

Mexican Investment yielded a point at 6½.

Issues lifted fractionally included United Shoe, Boston Elevated, Massachusetts Gas, Copper Range, Mohawk, Edison, Swift & Co., and Eastern Steamship.

Island Creek Coal, Mississippi River Power and East Butte were chipped slightly.

On the Boston Curb most lively issues were Crystal, up 1 at 59; Paymaster, up 3 at 20; and Salida, up 2 at 47.

Send stocks queries, with stamped, self-addressed envelope, to Frank H. Meloon, Financial Editor, Boston American, No. 80 Summer street.

G. E. KEITH CO.

To T. T. L., Tower street.—George E. Keith Co. 7 per cent. cumulative first preferred stock is exempt from Massachusetts taxes. Sells around 102. Company manufacturers shoes known all over the world. Business started in 1874 with $1,000 capital and on October 31, 1922, net assets of approximately $12,000,000, amount to more than $200 per share of first preferred stock now outstanding.

Net profits 8 years ended October 31, 1922, averaged over 2½ times dividend requirement on first preferred stock now outstanding.

AMERICAN BOSCH

To B. D. E., Dover street.—American Bosch Magneto Corporation's production of magnetos, motors, generators and battery ignition systems in the first six months this year ran substantially in excess of output in the corresponding periods of last year and 1921 and continued heavy output is being planned for the balance of the year.

On the basis of the first half's production and the outlook for the current six months it is apparent that earnings this year will exceed earlier estimates of net profits of approximately $600,000, or better than $6 a share on the 96,000 shares of no par value capital stock outstanding. Barring an unforeseen sudden slump in business, Bosch's net this year is likely to approach $775,000 or $8 a share. Materialization of such earnings, coupled with continued good outlook for 1924, should make possible the consideration of dividend resumption next year.

BONDS APPROVED.

To L. D., Wales street.—Department of Public Utilities has verified to Bank Commissioner Joseph E. Allen as saving bank investments the following list of gas and electric companies' bonds, secured by a first mortgage of the franchise and property of the company, prima facie comply with the requirements of the clause entitled "Sixth" of Section 229 of the Acts of 1921, and Chapter 159 of the Acts of 1922: Amherst Gas Company, Arlington Gas Light Company, Brockton Gas Light Company, Boston Electric Light Company, Dedham & Hyde Park Gas & Electric Light Company, Eastern Massachusetts Electric Company of Brockton, Greenfield Electric Light & Power Company, Greenfield Gas Light Company, Lawrence Gas Company, Leominster Gas Light Company, Leominster Electric Light & Power Company, Marlboro-Hudson Gas Company, Milford Electric Light & Power Company, Northampton Electric Lighting Company, New England Power Company, New Bedford Gas & Edison Light Company, Newburyport Gas & Electric Company, Old Colony Gas Company, Plymouth Electric Light Company, Quincy Electric Light & Power Company, Spencer Gas Company, Turners Falls Power & Electric Company, West Boston Gas Company, Worcester Gas Light Company, Webster & Southbridge Gas & Electric Company.

MITCHELL MOTORS WORTH $1,819,000

Public auction of assets of Mitchell Motors will be held at Racine, Wis., September 12, unless private bid is accepted before. Appraised value of all assets is fixed at $1,819,000. Included in property are nine main factory buildings with 604,000 square feet of floor space. Liabilities are estimated at $4,000,000. H. F. Johnson, trustee, expressed opinion private bid will be received before public sale and that property will bring at least $1,500,000.

RUBBER IMPORTS DECLNE SHARPLY

Crude rubber imports continue to decline sharply from high levels earlier in the year. In first two weeks of August arrivals at New York, which represent about 85 per cent. of the country's imports, were only 4,894 tons, including 200 of liquid latex, against 8,474 for the same period in July. Imports for July were 18,609 tons, against 25,245 in June. Imports for seven months were 208,648 tons, against 155,603 in the same period of 1922.

COTTON GOODS AT LOW COST FOR YEAR

Business in textiles and allied lines continues dull, with prices showing no indication of having reached the bottom of the downward trend begun last Spring. After a slight upturn raw silk has slipped back to close to the low figures for the current year. Cotton goods prices are at low for the year and lower prices are being quoted in the hosiery market.

The woolen goods trade is making a bid for Spring business without much success except in the women's wear division. Price concessions on the surplus stocks resulting from the cancellations of Fall goods earlier in the year are reported throughout the market.

Although the price declines are not as sharp as they were a few weeks ago, they are, nevertheless clearly defined, and give the general markets the appearance of instability.

Trading in the primary cotton goods market was dull and some price concessions were reported in second hands, but mills were generally holding firm to their former quotations.

PROCTER & GAMBLE EARNINGS HIGHER

Procter & Gamble Co., for year ended June 30 last, reports gross business of $109,776,389, compared with $105,655,386 in the preceding twelve months. Net income after depreciation, taxes, etc., amounted to $8,552,825, an increase of $1,312,498. On June 30 last the company had a total profit and loss surplus of $24,155,969, against $21,645,485 on the corresponding date of 1922.

QUOTATIONS HEAVY IN COTTON FUTURES

Quotations truned heavy in New York cotton futures. In latest trading October was off 3 points at 24.35, December off 13 at 24.24, January off 23 at 23.87 and March off 20 at 23.96.

WORCESTER has sold $400,000 of revenue notes, dated Aug. 20 and payable Nov. 16, 1923, to First National Bank of Boston at 4.19 per cent. discount.

NEW BEDFORD has sold temporary revenue loan of $500,000, maturing Nov. 16, 1923, to Shawmut Corporation at 4.24 per cent. discount plus $4.86 premium.

LACONIA, N. H., will receive proposals until August 20 for purchase of $40,000 of 4½ per cent. coupon school district bonds, dated July 15, 1023.

PROGRSS is reported in plan by which Laurentide Co. is seeking to purchase St. Maurice Paper Co. R. O. Sweezy, Montreal, has made offer of $140 a share for St. Maurice.

CHINO'S half-year profits amount to 73 cents per share on the 900,000 shares and indicate that exceptional improvements must be made in treating the low-grade refractory ores before it can make much money.

NEVADA Consolidated produced nearly 15,000,000 pounds of copper in the second quarter, compared with 11,780,000 in the preceding three months. Costs declined from 11.03 cents to 10.78.

NEVADA'S Ruth mine, from which 18,105 tons of smelting ore averaging 6.48 per cent. copper were shipped, is of great help during these fire-reconstruction days.

REAL ESTATE HAPPENINGS

VERMONT BLDG., NORTH END SOLD

Papers have gone to record conveying to Francis E. Bowker trustee, the property at No. 59 North Margin street and 6-12 Thacher street, comprising a six story brick, known as the Vermont Building. The property has an assessed valuation of $153,000 of which $54,600 is on the 15,617 square feet of land. Emily D. Proctor estate grantor.

WELL KNOWN CAMBRIDGE HOUSE.

Merl L. Wolfard has acquired for the Leslie School of Girls, title of the property at No. 31 Everett street, Cambridge, for many years known by the Harvard Students bodies as the Jarvis Field House. The property consists of a large frame dwelling assessed for $4400, a brick garage assessed for $100 and 6361 square feet of land assessed for $4300. Total assessed valuation $8800. The sale was negotiated by Edward B. Miles, 27 State street. It might be mentioned that the Clarkson brothers, Walter and John were born and reared in this Everett street house. The former distinguished himself in the mid-nineties as a pitcher for Harvard College. The latter won fame for the University City with his brilliancy on the diamond of the old National League.

BACK BAY THREE-FAMILY.

Beatrice O. Kimball has taken title to No. 27 Cambria street, Back Bay, a three-story brick with 1,491 square feet of land, the latter being assessed for $2,900. Total assessment $5,900. Elizabeth F. Avery estate, grantor.

WEST END FOUR-STORY.

Louise F. Sinclair conveys to Robert S. Clisby, the four-story brick and 700 square feet of land at No. 61 Lowell street, West End. Total tax $5,700 of which $3,500 is on the land.

SOUTH END.

The four-story brick house at No. 34 Rochester street, South End, has been acquired by Joseph Rozen and wife from Abraham Weinstock and wife. Property is assessed for $6800 of which $1800 is on the 900 square feet of land.

BEACON HILL.

Deeds have gone to record in the sale of 105 Pinckney street from Alice M. Blanchard, through William J. Stober to Chez Brik, Incorporated. This estate contains a 4-story brick dwelling house assessed for $5,600 and a lot of land extending through to Myrtle street containing 2625 square feet, assessed for $7900, making a total assessment of $13,500. Beverly Rantoul represented the purchaser and Wm. C. Codman & Son, 15 State street, were the brokers representing the seller.

DORCHESTER TRANSFERS.

The Wade Realty Corporation, No. 1 Beacon street, reports the sale of two six-family frame houses at 51-55 Templeton street in the Ashmont section of Dorchester. The property carries a total assessment of $20,000, of which $2,200 is on the 11,000 square feet of land. Laura Levy was the grantor and Louise Weinstein purchaser. The purchase price was greatly in excess of the assessed valuation. Final papers have been placed to record whereby Lottie Lampel sells the property at No. 127 Radcliffe street, Dorchester, to Lucy M. MacLeod. It is a two-family frame building with 3,552 square feet of land. The purchases was represented in the sale by the Wade Realty Corporation.

ST. GERMAIN STREET SALE

Daniel J. Cronin of the Devonshire Building has sold for Ray C. Johnson the three and one-half story brick dwelling house and 1,100 feet of land at No. 17 St. Germain street, near Massachusetts avenue, Back Bay, to Miss Mary E. King of Boston, who buys for occupancy. The house is assessed for $6,700 and was sold for a sum greatly in excess of this amount. The price and terms are private.

NEWBURY STREET LEASE.

Miss Jessie Ball has leased the entire building at No. 247 Newbury street for a term of years from W. H. Agry, trustee. About September 1 Miss Ball will open here a high class dressmaking establishment. This lease was negotiated through the office of W. H. Ballard & Co. Inc., 45 Milk street.

U.S. AND MEXICO CLAIMS UP TO WORLD COURT

Mexico City, Aug. 16 (AP)—John Barton Payne and Charles B. Warren, who have concluded their work at the pre-recognition conference, left for Washington to submit to President Coolidge and Secretary Hughes the records of the negotiations. The Commissioners expect to arrive in the capital next Monday.

Mr. Payne and Mr. Warren were accompanied to the railway station by Alberto J. Pani, Mexican foreign secretary; Fernando Gonzalez Roa and Ramon Ross, President Obregon's representatives at the conference, and George T. Summerlin, American charge, together with members of the Foreign Diplomatic Corps, many prominent Mexicans and members of the American colony.

After the records had been signed here, it was learned, an agreement was reached to have the president of the permanent Court of International Justice at The Hague appoint neutral umpires for the United States and Mexican claims commissions which are to be created through the revolutionary and mixed claims conventions, after diplomatic relations are resumed.

The documents comprise the two claims conventions and the Mexican government's interpretation of the bearing of the subsoil petroleum and agrarian laws on American property in Mexico. It is believed here the reports carried by Mr. Payne and Mr. Warren will be acceptable in Washington and that diplomatic relations between the United States and Mexico will soon be re-established.

When Big Fish Swallows Little Fish—Big Fish Suffers, Sometimes

This Picture Ought to Interest Some European Nations

Copyright, 1923, Star Co.

THIS BIG CANNIBAL BASS LOST ITS LIFE TRYING TO SWALLOW A SMALLER BROTHER

This photograph, published in the Geographic Magazine by courtesy of Noa Spears and C. O. Lee, shows what happens when animals become too greedy. It ought to warn men and NATIONS that also become too greedy.

A fisherman picked up these two fish in Medina Lake, near San Antonio, Texas.

Bass are cannibal fish. The big eat the smaller, the smaller eat the smallest.

The bigger fish in this picture had the entire head of a smaller bass in his mouth. In this particular case the cannibal fish swallowed the head of a fish a LITTLE too big for him. He couldn't get the fish down, he couldn't get it up. The man in the boat got both fish, and that ended them both.

This picture of two fish that died because one was too greedy ought to interest some countries of Europe—if they have time to think about it.

For over there in Europe there are many nations of the "cannibal bass" type engaged, just now, in trying to swallow each other. And some are trying to swallow their European brothers of a size too large to be swallowed comfortably.

This picture should also interest Americans that are invited to go over to Europe, join a World Court or a League of Nations, and help the cannibal brethren over there to settle their troubles.

A wise fish—let us say a good American brook trout—if it saw the two fish in this picture, one trying to swallow the other, would carefully keep away from any partnership with them.

Such a wise trout would say: "My dear bass brethren, I sympathize with you both, and all that sort of thing, most deeply. But I prefer to keep my distance until you get out of the habit of swallowing each other and choking on each other's heads. No foreign entanglements, no partnership with head swallowers."

Ships and Selfishness

Envy and Hatred—Old Stories

Copyright, 1923, Star Co.

"And King Solomon made a navy of ships in Eziongeber, which is beside Eloth, on the shore of the Red Sea, in the land of Edom. And Hiram sent in the navy his servants, shipmen that had knowledge of the sea, with the servants of Solomon. And they came to Ophir, and fetched from thence gold, four hundred and twenty talents, and brought it to King Solomon."

Long before Solomon lived, thousands of years before, men built ships, to go after something they wanted, or to escape from something they feared.

The first great navigator, one of mankind's benefactors, was the creature, half-man, half-monkey, that first straddled a log, and paddling with his hands went across a piece of water too wide for his swimming.

Then came paddles made of wood, and then boats, dug or burnt out of trunks of trees. Next some genius, noticing that wind on the water kept him back, decided that the same wind could help him to go forward, held up with his friend the hide of some animal. That was the first sailing ship. The rest of the progress you know—the strange boats of the Chinese, the great galleys of the Romans and Greeks, driven by slaves chained to their oars; the big merchantmen of Queen Elizabeth's day, the Spanish galleons, and so on up to our steamships, motor boats, submarines, and hydroaeroplanes that can go on the water or in the air.

You can imagine the first half-human beings that had boats on this earth, two or three hundred thousand years ago, perhaps earlier. You can see them fleeing to their boats when frightened by danger, or forest fires caused by lightning or carelessness. You can see them paddling softly in their boats to surprise a weaker people, take their property, and EAT THEM.

Things have not changed much. Probably in those old days the chiefs compelled their savage subordinates to build bigger and faster canoes, saying, "If we haven't the BEST boats the others will eat us. And if we HAVE the best boats, [illegible]n go over, steal them, get away, and eat them."

[illegible]ortunately, while boats have changed enormously, [illegible]ollow trunks of trees to steel monsters a thousand feet long, MEN have not changed so much.

We no longer eat each other in the flesh. But we tax and we rob and we confiscate, and we annex each other's lands.

Some day it will end, but before it ends for good human beings will probably have to change almost as much as their boats have changed.

OTHERS HOT, THIS MAN FREEZES

HAMMOND, Ind., Aug. 16.—While the rest of Indiana perspires in semi-tropical heat, G. J. Johnston plugs along in arctic boots, sheepskin coat and a heavy cap, stopping occasionally to thrash his mittened hands against his sides to stimulate circulation.

He works in the hardening room of a local ice cream company, where a temperature of from sixteen to twenty-two degrees below zero is maintained. Ice cream is shipped to the plant from Chicago and re-hardened before it is sent out to the Calumet region.

Forgetting Youth

Editor Boston American:

I'm against the man who forgets his youth. Recently, in a refreshment parlor at Revere Beach, I saw two young boys beg the owner for a glass of water. The best they received was a "Get out and get out quick." It doesn't take more than one incident of that kind to spoil one's entire day. ALBERT KLANG.

A Rodolph Fan

Editor Boston American:

I feel that Rodolph Valentino is wrongly accused because of his criticism of men's apparel. American tailors, after all, merely are attempting to imitate the tailoring in Paris and London.

Blind Friendship

Editor Boston American:

My sister, who is unable to see, finds her pets—five cats and two dogs—a source of great comfort and pleasure to her. This should be answer enough to harsh critics of dogs.

Us and U. S.

Editor Boston American:

Since France seems to be getting upstage lately, I, for one, am glad that America's policy is to keep out of foreign entanglements. It's America first, last and always and we do not ask foreign countries for their opinions of us.

Sends Long List

Editor Helping Hand:

Enclosed is a list of some things that I would be glad to give to some large needy family. Use your own judgment, as it will help someone, I hope.

MRS. D. G. K.

The list was so long that we haven't room to publish it all. You have been sent the address of Mrs. H. F. P., the mother of a large family, who will be very grateful indeed.

Would Help Orphan

Editor Helping Hand:

I would like to have the name of some boy fourteen or fifteen years old who is an orphan. I could help him in several ways. I would prefer if he were a Protestant or Catholic boy and of American parentage.

K. R. H.

Many Things to Give

I have a doll carriage which is in very good condition that I would like to give to the little girl who wanted one badly. I also have two middy blouses and a Summer dress that would fit a girl eight or nine, a jersey dress for a girl thirteen and two pairs of shoes, both size 4½. I have a pair of roller skates for someone, and if anyone wants a pair of crutches I would gladly give them. L. A. M.

Many thanks. The crutches will be held for replies. You have been sent the address of Mrs. N. A. C., who will be very grateful for the other things for her children.

Books for Mrs. L. E. M.

Editor Helping Hand:

Would like the address of Mrs. L. E. M., who asked for books and magazines. I have quite a number I would be glad to send her. As I have no children, I cannot help as much as I would like. MRS. A. O.

You have been one of the sterling helpers in this column, and we are very grateful. You have been sent Mrs. L. E. M.'s address.

Out of Steady Work

Editor Helping Hand:

I am a young mother with three small children and am expecting another in December or January. My husband has been unable to get steady work, and we owe so many bills that we can't afford to buy anything in the line of clothing. If anyone has a loose dress or a pair of maternity corsets they don't want I would be very thankful to get them. I have not been out for nearly two months, as I have nothing to wear. The children's ages are girl seven, girl three, boy eight months. The seven-year-old girl will be going to school soon and hasn't anything to wear. She is big for her age. I wish I could help instead of asking for help, but I hope to some day. MRS. M. G. 4.

Crib and Mattress

Editor Helping Hand:

I have a white iron crib with a mattress which I would give to anyone who would call for them. MRS. H. S.

Many thanks. You have been sent the address of Mrs. D. S., who is greatly in need of a crib for her baby.

For Size 38

Editor Helping Hand:

I have clothes to fit a woman or girl size 38, including shoes and hats. MRS. M. C. H.

Thank you. You have been sent the address of Mrs. D. J., who wears that size and is in need of clothing.

Invalid for Life

Editor Helping Hand:

My husband was taken sick three years ago with sleeping sickness, which left him an invalid for life. I travel sixty miles a day to work for fifteen dollars a week, as there is no work here, and it is better for my husband. I have a boy thirteen, a girl nine, and I have been trying to support the four of us on fifteen dollars. I sometimes get discouraged and wonder if things will ever be right again, but God knows best. If anyone has any clothes for children their age, or for a thin man five feet six or seven inches high, I would be very grateful.

MRS. C. A. C.

Family Needs Clothes

Editor Helping Hand:

I have two little boys, aged 3½ and two years, and I am expecting the stork again soon. I have only one sheet and very little bedding, and none of us have anything to wear that looks presentable. My husband has had a very long seige of unemployment and has kept us alive on odd jobs he could secure. He is working now, but it is very unsteady. My husband takes size 40, and I take a 38 or 40 size.

MRS. W. M. 4.

Wants a Crib

Editor Helping Hand:

I received your letter and wrote to Mrs. A. F. H. for the stroller, but have not heard yet. I sent a bundle to Mrs. G. this morning. If I get the stroller I will send the carriage to the lady in Fall River. I have six pairs of white wool stockings for a baby three months old. You won't forget me when you have a crib, will you? MRS. D. S.

You have been sent the address of Mrs. J. L., who will be grateful for the baby socks. Thank you. The address of a kind helper who offered a crib has been sent you.

COMING CALAMITY CASTS PROPHECY BEFORE

By Herbert Kaufman

TWO HUNDRED men are entombed in the Pioneer Coal Mine at Kemmerer, Wyoming. A few years ago newspapers would have published daily bulletins from the scene of the disaster.

Now they can hardly spare space to detail properly the series of catastrophes starting in August, 1914, and from all indications about to involve millions more of beings and heavens knows how many, hate-blinded powers in further slaughter and ruin.

Senator Smoot, back from a several months' look-around, fears German revolution and another continental war.

Willis Booth, head of the United States Chamber of Commerce, also just returned, doesn't think that the Ruhr will ever yield, or that France will retire before her claims are secured.

Irving Bush finds the Old World one mad broth of vindictiveness and suspicion, and is confident that Poincare can no more win out than Sisyphus could roll his fabled stone up hill.

Congressman Answell of Louisiana, believing that we can do nothing beyond what moral force may accomplish, warns us to look for rebellion in the Rhinelands, followed by French invasion and the subsequent entanglement of England and Italy.

Still Trying to Pass the Buck

Le Temps asserts that Baldwin has put it up to America to cancel all entente indebtedness or abandon everything to chaos.

L'Echo de Paris upholds the justice of making inter-allied payments entirely contingent on reparations collections, and protests that "the Great War must not result in the Latin races being forced to render immense indemnities to the Anglo-Saxons."

Poincare wants Washington and London to know that his country intends no conquests, but is simply insuring itself against future military and economic offensives from an inveterate foe, and rests the problem of restoring tranquility upon British and American purses.

He'll contemplate no deviation from present procedures until the United States government announces what it means to do about loans, which, according to a Foreign Office official, were made to assure victory and preserve British and American lives.

We are informed by the same dignitary that France and Belgium will refuse to consider any summons proposing to haul them "before a tribunal to answer for their efforts" to enforce treaty obligations.

A fine chance of our ever seeing those four billions!

Mr. Bok's hundred thousand dollars are safe.

The New Broom Sweeps Well

President Coolidge has aged ten years in a week. There's a man with a job on his hands. His first active day in office is mainly devoted to budget revision. Director Lord must pinch $126,000,000 out of former estimates.

The new administration adopts the following policies:

Reasonable help for Europe's distress, but no participation in its political wrangles.

Re-endorsement of selective immigration.

No stop in output of anthracite.

No farm relief legislation until Congress regularly convenes.

Recognition of Mexico.

And, last, but most significant, foreign debtors will be called upon to meet their obligations as rapidly as possible.

The expectant franc will now take another tumble.

They're on the Run

You'll learn in a short time whether there will be adequate supplies of coal next Winter, a strike, or temporary Federal operation of the anthracite fields.

One thing at least is positive: Mr. Myer of the Interstate Commerce Commission won't be able to persuade a certain ex-Governor of Massachusetts that household furnaces are imagining a shortage.

Standard Oil cuts the price of gasoline to 15.4 cents in Illinois and to 16.6 in other parts of the Middle and Southwest. The South draws a penny reduction.

Headquarters explain that automobilists are buying fuel supplies below cost of production.

That may be so. But recent dividends and stock bonuses indicate that 26 cents is unconscionable.

Governor Bryan of Nebraska notifies the industry to treat his folks right or the Commonwealth will establish competitive filling stations.

Independents, squealing against oppressive competition, knock a nickel off retail charges and swear that they're headed for ruin.

Turn about's fair play. The public is well entitled to an inning.

Another Botany Bay

Secretary Davis isn't satisfied that we're sufficiently protected against undesirable aliens. His investigations abroad convince him that much more stringent regulation is advisable.

If Congress follows his recommendations, future citizens will be put on probation for five years.

Consular examination at ports of departure, as persistently recommended in this column, will be urged, and eligible families admitted in a body.

Austrian authorities blandly notify him that passports aren't being issued to artisans or farmers. Vises are not refused, however, to superannuated Nationals or social sweepings.

Two hundred criminals in one country were granted the choice of jails at home or tickets-of-leave. We got 'em.

The Cabots of Boston object to the use of their exalted name by the Kabotschnicks of Philadelphia. Something to be said for both sides.

One can hardly blame anybody for wanting to simplify such a handicapping monniker. Nor are the descendants of Pilgrims and founders splitting hairs when they wish to restrict a proud heritage exclusively to themselves.

Why not Kabot or Schnick?
